HULL BANDITS KILL MAN AND TAKE $15,000

Gangsters Kidnap Two Bank Clerks Taking Money to Ottawa Office

VICTIM SHOT DOWN
RESISTING ROBBERS

HULL, Que., Dec. 4 (P).—Gangsters today kidnaped two clerks of one of the Hull branches of the Banque Provinciale du Canada, killed one with a bullet in his head, left the other bound and blindfolded and escaped with $15,000 in bills, which the clerks were taking to the bank's main office in Ottawa.

The dead man, Armand Nadeau, eighteen-year-old clerk and former Montreal resident, was believed to have attempted to resist the bandits before they pumped three bullets into his head and body. The men fled towards Montreal along the Hull-Montreal Highway.

TELLS OF ATTACK

Paul Lafleur, twenty-nine, accountant, told police he was driving with Nadeau to the bank's main office on Rideau Street in Ottawa, when one of the bandits drew a gun in his face and climbed into his car. The man, whom he described as being between thirty and thirty-five years old, ordered him to drive to a side road in the country.

BOUND TO STEERING WHEEL

Here, Lafleur said, the man in the back seat was joined by at least two others, who bound him to the steering wheel of his own car and blindfolded him. "The next thing I heard was three revolver shots," and Nadeau slumped against his right shoulder.

Lafleur struggled free from his bonds. His wrists were bruised from his struggles to get free. He also had a cut and bruise on his shoulder. He attracted the attention of a passing truck driver who telephoned police and an ambulance. Nadeau died about four hours later without regaining consciousness.

TWO KILLED IN TRAIN ACCIDENT

Five Runaway Freight Cars Crash Into Another Train in Central Oregon

MADRAS, Ore., Dec. 4 (P).—Five runaway freight cars careened down a heavy grade, crashed into an oncoming freight train, killed two men and injured three others near Gateway, in Central Oregon today.

The five cars broke loose from a work train on a steep grade in the early morning darkness. The crash smashed them to pieces and they burst into flames. In the wreckage were the remains of Conductor P. J. Gallagher, of Wishram, and Allan Hewes, a helper. They were identified from metal effects which survived the flames.

ALL ON WORK TRAIN

The dead and injured were aboard the work train, as were J. S. Magee, operator of the work unit, and Mrs. Magee, neither of whom was seriously hurt.

Officials of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railroad made no comment pending an investigation.

The crew in the locomotive of the freight train, against which the runaway cars crashed, escaped injury, as did three transients aboard one of the freight train's four cars which were demolished by the impact.

Nancy Camsusa Wins Championship Cup at Colonist Baby Show

Mayor David Leeming Presents Prizes at Show at Armories to Winners—Judges Are Enthusiastic in Praise of Youngest Citizens

NEVER in the history of Victoria has there been assembled at one time and in one place, such a lovely array of young Victorians and small people from Up-Island districts, as was seen at The Daily Colonist Baby Show, the major event of the opening day at the Victoria Winter Fair and Bazaar, yesterday afternoon at the Armories.

Not one of these young people was more than eighteen months old, and all were beautiful specimens of babyhood. Over 250 babies were entered.

Proud Mother and Her Winning Baby

Mrs. N. L. Camsusa, of 945 Pembroke Street, with her baby daughter, Nancy Louise, who was awarded the Championship Cup in The Daily Colonist Baby Show, held yesterday at the Armories in connection with the Tourist Trade Development Association's Winter Fair and Bazaar. Nancy Louise is six and a half months old.

Four-Day Winter Fair Is Officially Opened By Hon. A. Wells Gray

Cabinet Minister, Representing Premier T. D. Pattullo, Congratulates Tourist Trade Development Association on Outstanding Indoor Exhibition—Many Attractions

SINCERE congratulations to the Tourist Trade Development Association for the outstanding Winter Fair and Bazaar at the Armories were tendered last evening by Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands and Municipalities, when he declared the four-day exhibition officially open at 8 o'clock. He represented Premier T. D. Pattullo, who was on his way to Ottawa.

Mr. Gray also referred to the interesting variety and arrangement of exhibits. He thought that the Summer Show Boat concerts, organized by the association, filled a long-felt want in Victoria.

The Minister was accompanied by Miss Janet Gray, Mayor David Leeming and Mrs. Leeming. He was introduced by T. H. Eslick, general secretary of the Tourist Trade Development Association.

Mayor David Leeming declared that the fair would undoubtedly help to familiarize Victorians with products of the world's peace being affected by the matter in dispute.

Would Give Pope Home In Ireland

DUBLIN, Dec. 4 (P).—A sanctuary in Ireland for Pope Pius in view of the Italian sanctions situation was suggested today by Eoin O'Mahoney, Cork City delegate to the convention of the Pianna Fair Party.

"I believe that as a result of sanctions Italy will be smashed," he said.

"Therefore it is our duty to offer the Pope a home in Ireland for the next two or three years, until Italy gets on its feet again."

Professor Disguises as Student to Write Examination—False Moustache Falls Off

BOMBAY, Dec. 4 (CP-Havas).—Here's a new angle for the role of Good Samaritan—with an unhappy ending.

A young professor, an able mathematician, took pity on one of his less bright students as examinations neared. He disguised himself with false moustache and dark glasses to resemble the student, entered the examination hall, and began writing the student's paper.

As he pored over the paper, his moustache fell off. His identity was disclosed and the "kindly" deed brought him a year in jail for impersonation.

Three Killed When Villagers Battle Over a Trivial Sum

TERUEL, Spain, Dec. 4 (CP-Havas).—Three persons were killed and seven others seriously wounded in a battle between two families in the village of Visiedo last night. The battle followed an argument between the families over thirty-five pesetas (about $4.80).

SENTENCE IS TWO YEARS

Senator A. E. Planta of Nanaimo Sent to Jail for Fraud

NANAIMO, Dec. 4.—Two years' imprisonment was the sentence imposed on Senator A. E. Planta by Chief Justice Morrison shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon, following a trial lasting two days, in which the senator had been convicted of having fraudulently converted to his own use the sum of $700, which he had obtained from Henry Aho on a mortgage which was never executed, but purporting to be executed by Mrs. Irma Bernard.

When court reconvened this afternoon and it was known the Planta sentence was to be pronounced, J. R. Nicholson, defence counsel, pointed out to His Lordship that the jury had, while finding the accused guilty, also very strongly recommended mercy. He submitted that this was not a case whereby his client had benefited financially, and also stressed the fact that the accused had already undergone a long term of punishment since his first charge, before his fellow citizens, and counsel concluded with a request that no severe punishment be imposed.

SENTENCE PASSED

In passing sentence, His Lordship stated that he had taken into consideration the fact that the jury had recommended mercy. Also that Aho had received his money back. He also considered that the real punishment of the accused had consisted of his arrest and conviction before his fellow townsmen, people with whom he had been brought up. "The maximum punishment which could be inflicted is fourteen years," continued His Lordship, "I think two years in jail will act as a deterrent."

The three remaining charges against the senator were traversed to the next assize. Mr. Planta's counsel, Mr. Nicholson, stated that it was too soon to decide as to whether or not an appeal would be taken.

INDICATES LINE OF ITS ATTACK

Labor Party Approves Amendment to Address in House of Commons

LONDON, Dec. 4 (P).—The Labor party, its membership in the House of Commons strengthened by last month's general election, today served notice of the line of attack against the Government it will follow in Parliament.

An amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne was approved by the party. It will be moved on Friday by David R. Grenfell, member for Glamorgan-shire-Gower.

As debate on the speech continued in the House today, Jack McGovern, frey Independent-Labor member from Glasgow, attacked the means taken.

THE AMENDMENT

The Labor amendment reads as follows: "This House regrets the failure of His Majesty's advisers to indicate an effective policy for the restoration and maintenance of peace, the reduction of armaments by international agreement and the removal of the economic causes of war; the failure to recognize the need to plan the economic life of the country on the basis of public ownership in order to abolish poverty in the midst of plenty; the omission of adequate proposals for dealing with unemployment, including the abolition of the means test, and for dealing with the distressed areas and the just claims of the miners for an immediate increase in wages."

Invited to Submit Any New Evidence

TORONTO, Dec. 4 (P).—Paul Hinds, solicitor for Patrick Sullivan and the Small sisters, will be invited to attend the next meeting of the board of police commissioners and present any new evidence that he may have on the sixteen-year-old disappearance of Ambrose Small, Mayor James Simpson said today.

PREMIER BACK AT WORK TODAY

Cabinet Council to Consider Long List of Agenda Now Waiting

OTTAWA, Dec. 4 (P).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King is expected to arrive in Ottawa at noon tomorrow after a holiday spent at Sea Island, on the Georgia coast. It will be his first appearance in the capital since he left a fortnight ago to sign the Canada-United States trade agreement in Washington.

Announcements with respect to the Canada-Japan trade dispute, the appointment of a Canadian minister to Washington, and the establishment of a national commission to deal with unemployment problems are expected soon after the Prime Minister returns.

STARTING AT ONCE

The Prime Minister will plunge at once into preparations for the Dominion-Provincial conference which he will open here Monday morning. It is expected a Cabinet council will be called tomorrow afternoon for consideration of the agenda which has been in the course of preparation for weeks.

Settlement of the Canada-Japan trade dispute, which came to a head last July and resulted in applications of mutually prohibitive surtaxes on commodities exchanged between the two countries, has been practically reached, according to reports.

The Canadian legation in Washington has been without a minister since the resignation of Hon. W. D. Herridge was accepted the day before the new Government took office. There have been rumors that Hume Wrong, charge d'affaires, who has been acting minister, will be given the appointment.

Hydro Expected to Enter New Deal for Power From Quebec

Satisfactory Settlement of Long-Standing Dispute Predicted by Toronto Newspaper—Companies Accept Invitation to Meeting

TORONTO, Dec. 5 (P).—Satisfactory settlement of the Quebec Power contracts with the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission may be reached tomorrow, The Mail and Empire says in a news story today.

Representatives of Gathineau, Beauharnois, MacLaren and Ottawa Valley power companies will confer on Friday with Premier Hepburn and his Cabinet about the contracts which the Government passed legislation to invalidate.

"Government invitations to this conference have been accepted by the power interests," The Mail and Empire states. The article continues: "It is understood that the parley is

No Indications Disclosed of Reception Accorded Proposals by Mussolini—Experts' Scheme Understood to Contain Provisions for Exchange of Territory Between Countries

Emperor Selassie Declares No Territory Will Be Ceded

(Copyright, 1935, by the Havas News Agency)

PARIS, Dec. 4 (P).—Details of the peace plan worked out by Franco-British Foreign Office experts here have been conveyed to Vittorio Cerutti, Italian Ambassador, by Premier Laval, it was learned on high authority here tonight. Although Premier Mussolini already had been notified of certain general lines of the tentative plan, Ambassador Cerutti indicated that Il Duce was interested when he asked for an audience earlier in the day from M. Laval.

No indications were disclosed as to how Premier Mussolini is receiving the experts' plan. A Foreign Office spokesman insisted it merely was the first result of expert collaboration, and not a definite peace project.

PROVISIONS INCLUDED

It is understood the plan suggested an exchange of territory between Ethiopia and Italy, and that it contains the following provisions: Ethiopia would retain her complete independence and would seek financial and economic aid from other countries of the League.

Acceptance of the plan by Emperor Haile Selassie would be one of the essential conditions.

Ethiopia would get a port and a free zone through Italian territory, with provisions for a railroad to the sea, probably at Assab, in accordance with a protocol signed in 1896.

SOME DIFFICULTIES

(Difficulties are foreseen by observers in the sea outlet feature because of the treaty of 1906 dealing with the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad, and because of certain important interests already concerned in Djibouti. A similar difficulty would arise, it is said, if a free port, such as Zella, should be given to Ethiopia in British Somaliland.) Italy also would receive complete sovereignty in new territories, including a strip of land along the

CANADIANS ANGER BERLIN TROOPERS

Assaulted for Failure to Salute Nazi Flag—Police Tender Apology for Occurrence

TORONTO, Dec. 4 (P).—In a dispatch from London, The Toronto Daily Star says today two young Toronto men were assaulted by storm troopers in Berlin last Sunday, one of their assailants explaining they should have saluted the Nazi flag.

The two are Alfred Birney, who graduated from the University of British Columbia and holds an M.A. degree from the University of Toronto, and Kenneth Johnstone, twenty-six. Birney's mother lives in Vancouver.

Johnstone said their assailants dispersed quickly when it was realized the young men were foreigners. Police took the Toronto men to a police station and apologized.

New British Funding Loans Quickly Taken Up at Loan Market

Issue Specifically Earmarked for Retirement of Bonds but Huge Defence Loan Is Expected To Be Announced Soon

LONDON, Dec. 4 (P.).—It was authoritatively stated tonight that the funding loan, which was successfully subscribed soon after its issue could not be devoted to defence purposes. It was specifically earmarked for the retirement of other obligations.

In some quarters, however, it has been suggested that the clearing up of the money market by the present funding operations would simplify the flotation of a defence loan later.

(Previous reports were to the effect that part of the £300,000,000 loan might be used for defence purposes. However, it had been learned from a high Admiralty source that in the event that no agreement was forthcoming from the naval conference here some of the proceeds would be used for the building of three new battle cruisers.)

Reports of an impending huge defence loan, for months off and on,

have been a handy device for certain stock exchange interests to whip occasional flagging business.

REVIVES CONJECTURE

Official assurances that there would be a substantial increase in the defence forces naturally stimulated interest as to where the money was coming from. But far from satisfying public curiosity the Government's hitherto decline to reveal even the extent of the new armaments. The appearance of the new funding loan revived conjecture on this point.

It is known in well-informed circles that financial purists in the Government would be reluctant to borrow money for non-productive purposes, and the line of speculation from that point is that the utmost help the Government can count on towards defence purposes from the new funding loan is a slight saving of interest, compared to the old loans. This view prevails in the most authoritative quarters.

ENTIRELY SUBSCRIBED

The first section of the new loan, $100,000,000 at 1 per cent, issued at 98 and redeemable 1939-41, was entirely subscribed at the market opening at 9 a.m. The remaining $200,000,000 was subscribed by noon. It was a 2-1/2 per cent issue, offered at 96-1/2, redeemable 1936-61.

When the issue was announced, it was explained half the proceeds would be used to redeem an issue of 2 per cent bonds, maturing 1935-8, and part of it to redeem an issue of $44,000,000 3 per cent bonds, leaving the rest available to reduce the floating debt.

spectators. In addition to the prizes already mentioned, the champion baby girl received a beautiful white fur coat, presented by Mr. Alexander, of Foster's Fur Store.

VICTORIA'S RECORD

His Worship the Mayor, in opening the show, congratulated The Colonist on putting on the show and paid a high tribute to the work which is being done by the city health authorities in helping to build up a healthy, strong population. It was a fact, he said, that Victoria babies weighed on an average, one pound more than those whose records are kept elsewhere, and that they have three-quarters of an inch greater chest development.

The infant mortality here was lower than any other Canadian and British Columbia average, and compared favorably with any city on the American continent. It was gratifyingly so, he said, that Victoria has a particularly low maternity death-rate. An average of eighteen babies per week or 936 per year were born in Victoria, he continued, and he attributed the splendid health record largely to the efforts made by the Victorian Order of Nurses and the city health authorities, who are doing such worthwhile pre-natal and post-natal work. So important was the subject in the opinion of the authorities, that a pre-natal allowance of $5 monthly for a period of approximately six months is allowed to mothers on relief. In closing, His Worship forewarned the difficult task which would confront the judges, and he hoped that the awards would meet with the approval of all the contestants.

All prize-winning babies were presented with samples of prepared foods donated by H. J. Heinz Co., Leamington, Ont.

HIGH STANDARD

During the show, Mr. T. H. Eslick spoke a few words, congratulating The Colonist and emphasizing the high standard which was one of the chief characteristics of the babies in the show. During the afternoon, members of the Junior Victorian Order of Nurses gave splendid help in seating the mothers and their babies and in every way adding to the general comfort and well-being of the crowd. These girls were Misses Kathleen Wilson, Marianne Fraser, Jean Lennox, Janet Pitchford, Kitty Lake, Calla Goldsmith, Eileen Frank and Alison Craig.

OIL CONCESSIONAIRE FLYING TO ETHIOPIA

PARIS, Dec. 4 (P.).—Francis M. Rickett, the Briton who negotiated a vast Ethiopian oil concession from which the American interests involved later withdrew, reached Paris by airplane today, saying he was "en route to Cairo and farther."

His pilot, Lee Smith, said Rickett was headed for Ethiopia. Both men refused to explain their mission. They left this afternoon in the private plane for Rome.

FIRE LOSSES MUCH LOWER

Figures for First Eleven Months of Year Disclose Decrease From 1934

Victoria's fire loss for the first eleven months of this year is below that of the corresponding period of last year, it was announced yesterday by Fire Chief Alexander Munroe.

Starting the first half of 1935 with an increase in the loss figures over those of 1934, the chief has by persistent precautionary measures, and a general tightening up on all regulations and the institution of new ones brought the figure below that of 1934.

The loss for the year up to the end of November amounted to $86,993 as against $101,403 for the same period last year. This is a decrease of $4,410.

The November fire loss figure was $839.50 as compared with $7,077 for the same month last year.

Considering the assessed value of improvements in the city the fire loss figure this year is quite negligible. The department protects property assessed at $45,000,000, so that the loss this year is a mere fraction of 1 per cent of the value of the property protected.

Loses Desire to Drive Car After Crash Saturday

Thomas E. Brand was fined $30 in the city police court yesterday for driving to the common danger after his car had collided with another one owned by M. J. Crump at the corner of Hillside Avenue and Quadra Street.

The accused was defended by P. J. Sinnott, who entered a plea of guilty for his client, explaining that the accident occurred last Saturday night when it was foggy, and that the defendant did not see the stop sign there.

Mr. Sinnott pleaded for leniency, but the magistrate recalled that only a short time ago the accused had been before him in connection with an accident and that he had advised against the accused operating a car under the circumstances made known to him.

Mr. Sinnott said that the defendant was now convinced against operating a car again. The remains of his automobile after Saturday night had been sold to the junk dealer for $12, and the accused was through with automobiles.

MINING DOCTOR CALLED TO REST

Dr. Alexander Forbes Was One of Discoverers of Britannia Mines, Howe Sound

NORTH VANCOUVER, B.C., Dec. 4 (P.).—Dr. Alexander A. Forbes, eighty-five, one of the discoverers of the copper mining property at Britannia, B.C., and other mining areas in lower British Columbia, died suddenly today at his home.

Dr. Forbes was one of the earliest settlers of the Howe Sound area, where he became doctor to the Indians of the lower British Columbia Coast. He came to Vancouver in 1886 and soon settled at what is now Hopkins Landing.

Before the year 1900, the doctor and his wife moved to Minnesota. In 1912, he returned to Vancouver and went to Powell River, B.C., as doctor. He retired in 1930.

The doctor was born in Scotland and entered the British navy at the age of thirteen. He left the service ten years later after cultivating a taste for chemistry. He settled in Connecticut and soon became a normal school teacher, married, and later took up a medical career.

His wife died ten years ago and he has no survivors. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon with interment in Capilano View Cemetery.

GIVES TALK ON PRUNING TREES

E. W. White Explains Method of Pruning and Propagation to Horticultural Society

Practical pruning of fruit trees and some methods of propagation was the subject of an educational lecture given last night by E. W. White, district horticulturist of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, to members of the Victoria Horticultural Society at the City Hall.

Mr. White also gave practical demonstrations of the most successful methods of pruning and propagation to give vigorous growth and the yield, quality and quantity of fruit.

FROST NOT SERIOUS

Concerning the heavy frost a month ago, Mr. White said there had been practically no damage to fruit trees in this area, but some fruits on the trees had been injured, particularly apples, and he produced a number of samples to show how "break down" in the fruit had occurred through frost.

Mr. White was introduced by the president of the society, H. White-oak. At the close of the meeting Mr. Whiteoak exhibited a number of specimens of red berry shrubs and trees grown in the district for ornamental purposes. He showed ten or twelve varieties.

The inter-church movement was an effort in 1917 to co-ordinate all Christianization of the entire world. It was projected to raise $300,000,000 for the work of investigating conditions.

VOTE

AGAINST DAYLIGHT SAVING

Mothers!

If daylight saving is put into effect this is what it will mean. Children will be deprived of their proper rest because they will naturally want to play as long as daylight lasts. That will be 10 o'clock daylight saving time! For little children it is even worse. They will be put to bed when there are still two or three hours of daylight... and remember, too, in July and August it won't be the cool of the evening when little ones go to bed. It will be bright sunshine, and probably hot.

front, probably going to Magdala to meet his three northern commanders.
(Magdala is about forty miles northwest of Desaye, and something less than 150 miles due south of Makale, where the Italian front lines are located.)
It was believed the length of the Emperor's stay in Northern Ethiopia would depend on whether the Italians attempted to renew their offensive in Tigre Province.
"I cannot tell you how happy I am at the opportunity of seeing my soldiers in the field," he declared today.
PEASANTS' ADORATION

WILL NOT BROADEN SCOPE OF INQUIRY UNLESS REQUESTED

REGINA, Dec. 4 (P.).—Scope of the Royal Commission investigating the Dominion Day riot in Regina will not be broadened unless the commissioners themselves request it.
Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Federal Minister of Justice, declared in a letter to J. G. King, spokesman for a delegation on behalf of relief camp strikers.
The delegation waited upon the minister at Ottawa last week and requested scope be made to include Dominion-wide investigation. Since the present inquiry is conducted by a Provincial commission, the position taken by Mr. Lapointe is that other demands in the interest of the strikers should be addressed to the Provincial Government.

Cameras in Action Filming Scenes of Dionne Quintuplets

Famous Babies Play Parts to Great Satisfaction of Hollywood Director—"Shooting" of Films
To Be Completed Within a Week

CALLANDER, Ont., Dec. 4 (C.P.).—The Dionne quintuplets toddled effortlessly and winsomely into a feature motion picture today, and proceeded to take command of the situation. The famous youngsters, eighteen months old, awakened from a sound sleep to find Hollywood cameras ready for them.

Director Henry King led a small force of movie men into Dafoe Hospital, two and a half miles from Callander. Tip-toeing in while the babies slept, they set up their equipment noiselessly and then waited rather fearfully for Yvonne, Cecile, Emilie, Annette and Marie to wake up. They would be perhaps frightened by the invaders.

But the movie people were more frightened than the children. One by one, the sisters walked boldly into their transformed nursery and had only disarming smiles for the film folk.

"NURSE" DRESSES BABIES

Dorothy Peterson, who is cast as the nurse in "The Country Doctor," dressed Yvonne and Annette while the first scene was shot. Meanwhile, Cecile, Emilie and Marie sat in their beds and the movie people paid more attention to the antics of this trio than to the filming. Then Jean Harbo, playing the part of Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, tried his hand at dressing one of the babies, and inadvertently added a humorous touch, when he put the little frock on back to front. The other scenes showed the babies happy in their playpens. Stopping over them, Miss Peterson sang a nursery rhyme and Cecile "played up" by waving her pink arms in time to the rhythm.

DOCTOR KEEPS WATCH

Dr. Dafoe was in the nursery during the fifty minutes the movie crew was there and satisfied himself the lights did not harm the eyes of his charges. The actual filming occupied only seven and a half minutes and produced 950 feet of film, with which Director King declared himself entirely satisfied.

Filming will continue daily from 11 to 12 o'clock in the morning and, barring setbacks, a week will see the scenes completed.

Tonight Dr. Dafoe was tendered a dinner by newspaper reporters who came here to cover the story of the quintuplets' movie debut.

FORMER LOCAL RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. H. M. Meyer Succumbs
at her Home in Berkeley
—Interment in Victoria

According to word received here yesterday, Mrs. Henrietta M. Meyer, aged seventy-eight years, a former resident of Victoria, passed away Sunday at her home in Berkeley, Cal.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Stella Gregg, San Francisco, widow of Charles A. Gregg, former city editor of The Colonist, and Mrs. R. T. Power, Vancouver; one son, Capt. William R. Meyer, Berkeley; and four grandchildren, Charles W. and Norman M. Gregg and William W. and Betty Meyer.

Mrs. Meyer came from a seafaring family, and by birth and association had been closely connected with the sea. Her father was the late Capt. William Moore, a mariner well known in Victoria and Pacific Coast waters. Her husband, Capt. William Meyer, for many years sailed the seven seas, finally taking up his residence in Victoria, where he became one of the best-known pilots in British Columbia waters. During their earlier married life Captain Meyer took Mrs. Meyer on several voyages, when they visited ports in the Orient and Europe.

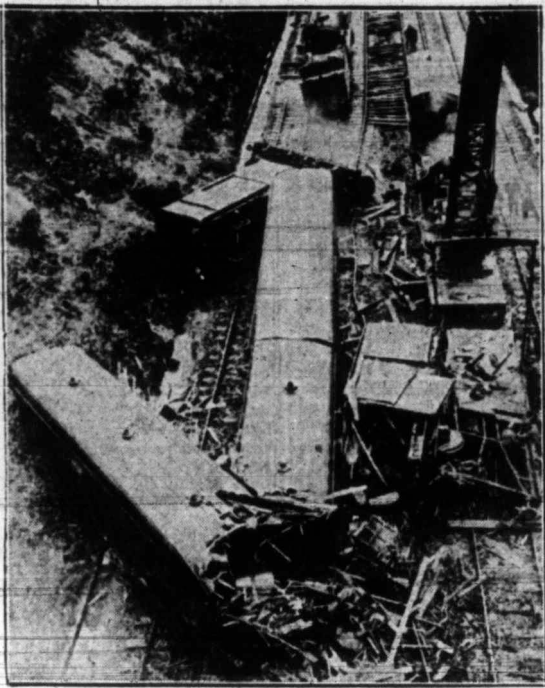

MASTER OF MARIPOSA

Mrs. Meyer's son, William R. Meyer, has followed in his father's and grandfather's footsteps, and is now the master of Ss. Mariposa of the Matson Line, a splendid ship of 26,000 tonnage sailing on regular schedule between San Francisco and Australia. Many friends in Victoria of Captain Meyer will recall the tremendous ovation he received in San Francisco several years ago when he returned there after a most spectacular dash through the island-dotted southern sea to effect the rescue of the passengers and crew of a vessel on the point of foundering.

Although Mrs. Meyer made her home in California for the past twenty years, she never lost her love for Victoria and made it a practice of returning practically every summer for a visit of several months.

The remains will be interred in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery with her husband and infant daughter, who died almost forty years ago.

music was provided by the 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade trumpet band, led by Lance-Sergeant J. E. Wilson. The introduction of Hon. Wells Gray was announced by a bugler.

VISITORS ASTOUNDED

Those who attended the Winter Fair and Bazaar yesterday were astounded at the transformation of the drab interior of the Armories into the reproduction of a large outdoor exhibition, complete with mid-way.

Thousands of globes are used to carry out a diffused lighting effect on the modernistic booths, done in shades of buff and pink and trimmed with contrasting black and gleaming silver. Signs above them are of black cut out letters, silhouetted against the glowing background. Installation of the unique and spectacular lighting was supervised by R. D. Lemmox, who has had wide experience in Hollywood moving picture scenery lighting effects.

Products on display include many articles manufactured in the city, tastefully arranged for public view. Many of the exhibits are of an instructive nature. All booths are arranged so that there is plenty of room for crowds to pass along the aisles.

BUSY MIDWAY

No exhibition is complete without a midway, and the Winter Fair and Bazaar has one in the charge of Percy Wheeler, which was well patronized yesterday. All games of skill are played with stage money.

Attractions along the "barker" line include a photo gallery, hoopla, penny pitches, pin games, pea shooting gallery, house-hoof, cigarette shooting range, crown and anchor, slum wheels, six-arrow game, two-gun Mickey, and jingle boards. A hot dog stand completes the list.

The fair will be open from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until midnight, today, Friday and Saturday. Music is provided by Al Reynolds and his cabaret orchestra and Fred Rustlers. A public address system is fitted up to relay radio programmes, special acts and announcements throughout the large building.

COOKING DEMONSTRATION

From 3 to 4 o'clock this afternoon, Mrs. M. A. Foulds, of the B.C. Electric Railway, Ltd., home service department, will give a cooking demonstration on a large stage at the north end of the Armories. Hollywood Beauty Products will demonstrate beauty culture.

At 7:30 o'clock the 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade trumpet band will play until the entrance of Reeve Alex Lockie and members of the Esquimalt Council, who will announce Esquimalt Day at the fair.

During the evening the Misses Lillian and Adeline Grant will put on a show of Highland dancing and piping. Miss Florence Clough and her pupils will give several ballet, expressive and duo dances.

William Harkness, the Satin-Glo magician who escaped from a sealed and padlocked steel tank while handcuffed and manacled inside at the fair last evening, will repeat his baffling act at 10 o'clock this evening. From 1:45 to 11 o'clock, Scottish dances will be given.

GIGANTIC KIOSK

Occupied by exhibits of the Provincial Departments of Forestry, Mining, Agriculture and Fisheries, the largest booth at the fair is an imposing structure in the form of a gigantic kiosk. It is done in pink with black trimmings and is surmounted by a gleaming silver dome. Two large Island totem poles and a number of carved Indian figures add to its outstanding appearance.

Forestry is represented by panels of various British Columbia woods, rayon and colored photographs of giant trees. Agricultural exhibits include apples, corn, beans, celery, strawberries, plums and asparagus. The mining display is made up of silver, gold and other valuable ores. The fisheries section shows mounted fish, fishing scenes, and an educational collection of fish eggs in various stages of development.

OTHER BOOTHS

Other booths at the Winter Fair and Bazaar with their products include: Blind Craft booth exhibits dolls, children's furniture and baskets of all kinds made by the blind of Victoria.

Wildbrook, Conwood and Shepherdholm Kennels display purebred Dandy Dimonts, collies and German shepherd dogs from their choicest specimens.

WADDINGTON HOLDS SWAY

Big Spire of Mystery Mountain Offers Big Problem for Alpinists

The large areas of "flat faces" on the only route up to the big spire of Mount Waddington, or Mystery Mountain, form an impassable barrier to alpinists, was the opinion expressed here last night by Mrs. Don Munday, of North Vancouver, in an address to the Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club of Canada at the Y.W.C.A.

Mrs. Munday, who is a noted Coast climber, indicated three main drawbacks to alpinists who have, or who will, assail the big spire of the now famous mountain. They are: sheerness on the only route possible; the formation of ice plumes by winds, which are unsupported and afford no pick hold, and the "flat face" areas, she considers impassable.

THE BIG SPIRE

The big spire of Waddington, Mrs. Munday said, held an immense fascination for alpinists. It was, she said, like a magnet drawing them to its treacherous inclines. Mrs. Munday intimated she would go to Waddington again in the summer of 1936.

Prior to Mrs. Munday's address, which was illustrated by nearly 200 lantern slides, election of officers for the club was held and resulted as follows: Chairman, C. L. Harrison; secretary-treasurer, Miss Audrey Hadow; treasurer, Thomas Goodlake; executive, W. H. Diggon, Muriel Aylard, Fred Maurice and Miss Edith Wilcox.

Palm Dairies, Limited, booth contains ice cream, ice cream cakes and other frozen dainties.

Madame Dolores, who was seen at the Chicago World's Fair, Toronto Winter Fair and San Diego Exposition, deals in character analysis.

Shoes for every member of the family in a variety of styles are shown by James Maynard, Limited, shoe shop. The booth contains a tiny stage, on which models display ninety pairs of shoes three times daily.

"PARADISE OF WEST"

"Vancouver Island, the Paradise of the West," a song composed and set to music by William J. Campbell, is featured at one of the booths. Copies of the music contain many photographs of Island beauty spots.

Handicrafts display contains pottery of every description, dolls and hand-woven cloth made in the city.

Sponsored by the Board of Trade, Ladysmith has a booth showing apples, potatoes, pears and scenic photographs of the district.

Crafts Studio displays dolls, baskets, art flowers, pottery, silk cushions, concrete work and bird baths, locally made.

Lemon, Gonnason Company, Limited, booth has a display of metal and woodworking machinery in actual operation. Machines include a lathe, circular saw, band saw, drill press, shaper, cut-off saw, table saw, jointer, abrasive cutting saw, portable polisher and grinding wheels.

Minty & Temple show oil burners for kitch and heaters in several styles.

F. W. Francis, jeweler, has a gleaming display of Christmas gift suggestions in the shape of silverware, watches, cutlery and jewelry. Hawthorn's demonstrate the manufacture of their famous English crumpets, which won prizes at the Confectioners and Bakers' Exhibition at London.

Household flour and breakfast foods make up the exhibit of Ogilvie Flour Mills, Company, Limited.

Beatty Washer Store booth contains electric ironers, washing machines and floor waxes. Machineless permanent waves and oil permanent waves are demonstrated at the display of the Belle Beauty Shoppe.

HARGREISA, British Somaliland, Dec. 4 (CP-Havas).—Twelve Italian tanks mired down near Bussal, about sixty miles south of Gorrhael, following recent rains, and had to be abandoned, it was reported here today.

GREAT BRITAIN'S LOANS

There is an object lesson in national patriotism in the success of the latest Governmental loans floated in Great Britain. That for the purposes of national defence, a sum approximating $500,000,000, was subscribed instantaneously, although it is to bear interest of only 1 per cent. The other loan for approximately $1,000,000,000 was subscribed within three hours after being placed on the market. This loan bears interest of 2.5 per cent. The results stamp the hall mark of approval on the present National Government and on the issues that it raised in the late election campaign, particularly on the main issue, that of strengthening the country's defences. It is a complete and emphatic answer to the Labor Party's continued disarmament programme which was rejected by the voters. It is illustrative, too, of the feeling of confidence that prevails in the country.

Money at 1 per cent would have been regarded as an impossibility a brief few years ago. More particularly a loan for the purpose of national defence would have been considered ludicrous at this low rate of interest. The people of Great Britain, however, are more concerned about their safety than about the dividends they draw for participation in the obligations of national insurance.

In the results of the latest loans Great Britain has added a new coping stone to the structure of her national prestige. Her voice in the councils of the nations will be proportionately more powerful as a consequence. In the meantime the thing that matters most is that she is determined to consolidate national security and to preserve the Empire won by the enterprise of her sons. The strengthening of her means of defence is to be carried out irrespective of what any other part of the Empire may think are its obligations in this respect. More than a proportionate burden of the task of Imperial defence has ever fallen on the British Isles, but the heart of Empire will continue to support that burden until such time as all the Overseas Dominions recognize the nature of the responsibilities that are contingent on the rights that they enjoy.

QUEBEC AND B.N.A. ACT

In an official sense the Taschereau Government will be able to commit Quebec to any decisions it pleases at the forthcoming conference between the Dominion and the Provinces. In reality, however, the likelihood is that Mr. Taschereau will be exceptionally careful of what he does after the decision of the Quebec electors who have shown considerable dissatisfaction with his Government. L'illustration, of Montreal, says the Liberal Party of that Province has no mandate towards other Provinces and the Federal Government. If Mr. Taschereau is of the same opinion it may prove difficult to reach conclusions at the Ottawa Conference towards which the representatives of the different Provinces are speeding with such sanguine hopes. Most certainly Quebec, with the political situation what it is in that Province, cannot reach any conclusions about amendments to the British North America Act, and it is to formulate these that is the chief purpose of the gathering. No Provincial Government has a mandate in this respect, nor has the Dominion Government itself, for the issues that have been raised have never been voted upon by the people.

TRIBUTE TO LATE LORD JELlicoe

There is one naval authority who believes in the leadership displayed by the late Lord Jellicoe and who considers that the Battle of Jutland was a decisive one. He is Rear Admiral W. W. Phelps, formerly of the United States Navy. In a letter he has written to The New York Herald-Tribune he says: "In the strategy leading to the Battle of Jutland the co-operation of Admiralty Intelligence and Beatty with Jellicoe was nearly perfect. Beatty beautifully led the German Battle Fleet into the jaws of Jellicoe's battleships. Jellicoe's tactics were as nearly classically perfect as the swivel-chair game-board tactics ever dreamed about. The proof of Jellicoe's mastery tactics lies in the gradual and finally complete dissolution of the morale of the German Navy. The surrender of the German Navy to Beatty in Scapa was Jellicoe's victory. With Jellicoe's fame safe in this result, how futile have been all the controversies over details. Nelson now greets Jellicoe as a peer."

JAPAN IN CHINA

Japan has won at least a part of her objective in North China, namely, the desire to establish autonomous government there. Autonomy has been proclaimed over a large section of Hopei and Chahar. It is proposed to extend the scheme to embrace all the five Northern Provinces, including Shantung, Shansi and Suiyuan. Japan needs such autonomy to safeguard her interests in Manchukuo. The border provinces have been a thorn in the flesh to Japan and her suzerainty in the Manchukuo state. The autonomous movement has come from within the provinces; in order that it shall spread, Japanese troops have penetrated that part of China. There has been such distrust affecting the Central Government of China, the efforts to suppress Communism have been so dilatory, that Japan considers it the part of wisdom to make a strong move to counteract the autonomy movement in North China. The autonomy movement has unquestionably dealt a severe blow at the strength of the Nationalist Government in China. It is true that one proposal of such autonomy is to recognize the sovereignty of Nanking. That means little, for autonomy decrees that all authority in the north will be self-centred. Events in the East, and particularly in the matter of the future of China, will move without either European or American intervention. Europe is too preoccupied with continental dangers. The United States will not move alone, as it has no desire to arouse the hostility of Japan. There is, too, the realization that Japan can accomplish much for the civilization of China, and in the extension of her influence there is no reason to suppose that she wants anything in the nature of an overlordship. What she is doing is consolidating interests which will not in the future prove hostile to her own well-being. In this process the great masses of the Chinese people are apathetic as to the results, and that is one reason why other nations hesitate to intervene.

THE MOON'S PARTITION

What of the tides, what of plant life, what of the maidens whose love is fostered by earth's nearest neighbor, when the moon is no more? Its end is predicted by Sir James Jeans, the noted astronomer, who thinks that it is slowly falling towards the earth, and will eventually come within the danger zone, when it will break into pieces. His theory is that its partition will first be into two pieces, then into four, then eight and eventually into countless particles which will resemble Saturn's rings. Earth's dwellers may still console themselves because they will not be deprived of light from the skies by night. There will in fact be continuous moonlight, but instead of that light being reflected from the moon itself it will come from particles and the earth will have rings like Saturn. When the time comes for the moon's partition it will be difficult for minstrels to sing the "tender song of meeting and parting with the moon in it," for it will only be a light not an entity thereafter.

Mr. H. G. Wells who, when his imagination roamed in the clouds, was able to foretell with uncanny prevision what would happen has come very much down to earth in these latter days. He now prophesies that at some time in the future outer garments will be worn that will only last a week; apparently, too, inner garments are to be equally ephemeral, as Mr. Wells also prophesies no more laundries. If the garments of the future are as expensive as those of today the labor used in the making of them should be so increased as to solve the problem of unemployment, that is provided a sufficient number of people can be induced to go into the ready-to-wear business. Fashions, too, are bound to change rapidly when a dress is only worn for a week and then discarded.

The Government of Premier Aberhart in Alberta is essentially one believing in the doctrine that "to the victors belong the spoils" and practicing that doctrine with vigor. There have been wholesale dismissals among Government employees who have been replaced by Social Credit advocates. If work and wages are to go alone to Social Crediters it might be a fair assumption that the National Dividend will be similarly, if ever, distributed.

For several years it has been a passion with humanity to demand financial miracles to cure economic ills. The response has been the suggestion of many quack remedies, including the belief that something in the nature of a millenium can be reached by giving away money.

CRAZY PATHWAY

To reach my peaceful sundial I must go
 Along a crazy pathway made of stone:
 A crazy pathway? Yes, some call it so,
 But as I take my garden walk alone
 And pass that way, to me it always seems
 I reach my sundial by a path of dreams.

Its stones, each one of different design,
 Though quaint and crude of form, are fitted well.

To make a lovely thing—this path of mine!
 A sermon in grey stone it seems to tell
 That life's no crazy pathway; 't'is but
 Planned beyond our human ken—to fit!

Note and Comment

By R. R. D.

The fear of hell is a handman's whip To hand the wretch in order.

Without prejudice and with deference, the fear of hell has lost some of its force not only for holding the individual, but for holding communities and nations in order. Police forces are necessary for holding communities in order. There are thousands of wretches in Vancouver who cannot be held in order by a new and competent force organized by a very energetic and competent Mayor. Mayor McCreer is busy holding another investigation into certain alleged irregularities at the old city hall, and while his competent back is turned the enterprising burglar is a-burgling and his contemporaries are occupied in various crimes. Last week-end the wretches committed so many crimes that a quarter of a column of newspaper space was filled with lists of them. They have an occasional fog over there, and a muggy condition of the atmosphere makes conditions favorable for the occupation of the thug and the general law-breaker.

It seems to be as hard to outlaw war between the nations as it is to outlaw crime in communities. Neither the fear of hell nor dread of the wrath of the League of Nations could prevent the Italian invasion of Ethiopia. We never had much faith in the efficacy of the League of Nations as a preventive of war between nations. We held that the proper business of any nation was to attend to its own business, because interference in the affairs of individuals provoked jealousies, and might culminate in strife—and strife between nations generally ends in war. When the League purposed organizing international police forces for the purpose of keeping hot-tempered and bellicose nations in order, we maintained the thing could not be done without endangering peace, because there would be disagreements about recruiting any international army and regarding competent soldiers to command the army.

Recent international events have somewhat modified our opinion regarding the League of Nations as an instrument for maintaining international peace. The League is trying to end the war being waged by Italy not through the agency of a collective military force, but through the instrument of collective economic pressure, technically called sanctions, for which penalties might be a better name. Italy is being squeezed in the coils of the League, but there is no intention of crushing her.

The only difficulty in connection with the application of sanctions or penalties is that former and old national alliances and friendships are being strained and unanimity of opinion cannot be attained. France has vacillated if she has not actually opposed the application of sanctions against Italy because of blood relations and long-enduring political relations. Great Britain has been forced to apply pressure to France. There seems to be no question that if the British Government had not assumed the responsibility for maintaining an embargo against Italy, the League of Nations would have collapsed, and thus would have justified the position we assumed as to its practical utility. Great Britain financed the League for years, and this year is directing its policies.

The effect of blood relations may be seen in the attitude of the Canadian Government to oil sanctions. Possibly it might not be fair to assume that because there is a large French element in Canada the Canadian Government has adopted the same attitude toward sanctions as the French Government. The Canadian Minister of Justice, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, has repudiated the action of the Canadian representative at Geneva in moving that penalties be applied against the export of oil to Italy. But Canada is a member of the League of Nations, and it is rather startling to realize that in this vital matter of penalties Canada takes the side of France and is opposed to the action of Britain. Mussolini can point with exultation to the fact that in the matter of his war against another member of the League of Nations the British Empire is divided.

Is it merely an incident that at a time when important policies or principles are being considered and are in the balance the Prime Minister of Canada has found it convenient to be absent from his post at Ottawa? The issue is not one of war. It is an issue of peace—under compulsion, of course, with an extremely remote possibility of war. Still, we have no doubt that the Prime Minister was consulted and that the action taken by the French-Canadian Minister was on his orders. The Prime Minister's relation to the League of Nations seems to bear some resemblance to what he considers Canada's relation to the Empire, something to be determined by circumstances.

Rabbit Breeders Complete Plans For Winter Show

Arrangements were completed for their annual winter show to be held next Monday and Tuesday in the Poultry Building at the Willows, when members of the British Columbia Provincial Rabbit Breeders' Association met Tuesday night in the Y.M.C.A.

Already one hundred and fifty entries have been promised, with more expected. P. P. Boucher, secretary announced. Percy Hickling, of Nanaimo, will be the judge.

Many special prizes have been secured in addition to the following challenge trophies: City Cup, Pendray Cup, Dowell Brothers' Cup, Scott & Peden Cup, Totem Cup, Woolley Cup, Greenwood Cup and Wenger's Cup.

Animals may be housed in the poultry building next Sunday between 9 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Charles Woolley gave a talk during the evening on rabbit ailments. He said breeders should guard against disease at all times and give their animals good food.

Just a Prediction

I see where a chap by the name of Wilbur Glenn Voliva has predicted the end of the world in 1936. Although he has made such a prediction just recently, Mr. Voliva goes ahead and signs a ten-year contract to act as president of a big firm. It's not much of a gamble, though. If the world doesn't come to an end, Wilbur will go on being president just the same. If it does come to an end there'll be no more firm to be president of. What's a prediction after all, so let's play button, button, who's got the button.

"My First Dollar"

"I left school at fifteen and went to work for a wholesale grocer at Plymouth, England, for five pounds a year, or about two shillings and fourpence a week. That was in 1885. The hours were long and the work was hard. After four years I was earning twenty pounds a year, or little over eight shillings a week. I came to the Canada soon afterwards." The foregoing was the experience of a man who in thirty-odd years in the insurance business in Victoria has earned that rarest of all prizes—a good name.—S.G.

Try It on Your Own Lot

The other afternoon two Victoria youths, attired in shirt sleeves, defied the cold weather by demonstrating their gymnastic ability in a vacant lot on May Street. Their apparatus consisted of an old mattress and a piece of plank and with these two devices they gave a good exhibition of tumbling. First one of them would spring off the board and turn a somersault in the air, and then the other would try his luck. This went on for some time.—S.K.M.

A Chair for the Lady

An Old Country visitor spending a few days in Victoria before sailing for New Zealand and Australia, was asked for her "truthful impressions" of us. Her first comment was complimentary: "Victoria is an unusually beautiful little city!" What followed should be taken up and acted upon as constructive criticism: "But one is not encouraged to go shopping; there are no seats anywhere. If the clerks are busy with other customers one has to stand on aching feet until they are ready to attend. I went into a photographer to get some souvenir pictures of Victoria. Everyone was busy, there were no seats. I was tired, so I had to walk out without buying anything, although I saw some beautiful photographs. . . . And may I suggest that you get after your Dominion Post office Department and prevail on them to put more gum, or mullage, on the stamps!"—J.E.M.B.

Rainbows in the Night

Colored lights along part of Government Street transform a drab block into a veritable fairyland at night. We should like to see colored lights on every one of the city's ugly lamp standards. A neighbor's daughter who took only eight lessons on the piano now can rattle off almost anything—even the pictures. . . . Mary, the part Persian cat, has been up to her old tricks again. One day this week she crawled through a hole in the floor of her master's automobile and roosted upon the warm engine. When rescued she had changed her pretty fur for a coal black coat. . . . Our tobaccoist friend remarked yesterday that there are far too many holdups in Vancouver. Just how many should there be? . . . A new recruit at Work Point Barracks passed an officer without saluting. "Here you see this uniform I'm wearing?" "Yes, sir," answered the private, "and just look at this thing they gave me to wear."—G.B.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of December 5, 1885)

Fall in Land—Last Sunday morning residents of Spring Ridge, at the head of Puntchari Bay, were startled at the dawn of the day by the sound of the alarm. The opening is circular and about twelve feet in diameter. What caused the "big" "big" crisis storm was not known. The "big" "big" storm was not known.

Personal News—E. Morris, who was severely burned at the Cudbore Bay power works, is convalescing at St. Joseph's Hospital. J. F. McMillan, who has placed the electric light for the Portland people, came over yesterday to confer with the electric light committee of Victoria in reference to the proposed extension to the British Columbia Electric Co. of the Victoria, B.C., H. W. Lewis, Boston; George A. Lawrence and L. Ladner, New York; George A. Greenleaf, San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. John Kinnison arrived home yesterday.

Bus to Esquimalt at Night—The Victoria Transfer Company has made arrangements to have a bus run to Esquimalt every night at 11:30 o'clock, with the exception of Sundays, when the bus will leave at 8 o'clock.

Letters to the Editor

No letter to the Editor will be inserted except over the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception. No letter should exceed 500 words in length.

BANKING

Sir,—It is pleasing to note our friends are now realizing that "debit and credit" are inseparable twin words, therefore, there must be two parties to every transaction, the where-withal being none other than "securities," our friends preferring the word "goods." Ipso facto, "no goods," "no money!" Surely that should now leave the bankers in the clear. But there are two parties to the transaction, the other, of course, being the fellow with the "goods," and they must be "good goods." These fellows outnumber the bankers by millions, and my fellow Social Creditors propose to more equally distribute their "goods." How, when and why? Would the Dean of Canterbury dispose a possessor? I'm sure not.

I am firmly of the opinion that our present twin Governments intend, considering at last "a minimum wage, a maximum commodity price and full weight." I am still maintaining this is good business for everybody; and let us all sincerely hope some radical move will be the outcome of the gathering at Ottawa—a nice Christmas present for all the people in Canada.

In the meantime, one of the other parties to bank transactions should cease the steady increase of commodity prices—the raise of the odd cent per dime for at least the past six months, and like Johnnie Walker, still going strong!

H. P. WINSBY.

EVOLUTION

Sir,—In view of the disturbances and consequent investigations in our Dominion, which have revealed to some extent the inroads which subversive propaganda have made into our national life, every citizen ought to be made aware of the part which atheistic teaching plays in that destructive work. Also that, in turn, evolution is the stronghold of that atheism. The American Association for the Advancement of Atheism says: "Evolution" spells atheism—a Godless universe."

Furthermore, sir, our Dominion has to face the loss of many millions of dollars through crop failures. Our own province, according to your news columns, has suffered the loss of one million dollars through frost. We have to face this loss. What we ought to face is the fact that the Almighty uses frost and hail and stormy wind and other forces of nature to punish nations for their wickedness. This demonstrates that He not only is the Creator of those forces, but also remains in sovereign control of them.

Therefore, it may be laid down as a principle which we all, as a nation and as individuals, must face sooner or later, that in our entertainment of the evolution theory, so disastrously launched upon our race about seventy-five years ago, we are retaining a poison that is destroying our national life from within and calling down upon us the wrath of Almighty God.

It is because of these unchallengeable facts that men and women are now in Great Britain, in Eastern Canada and in the other Dominions of the Commonwealth, endeavoring to awaken the public conscience. It is not enough to let quietly drop a theory which has, by its implications, imported into every department of thought, wrought incalculable harm to our people. It must be definitely repudiated and shown up as the delusion which has been the chief factor in bringing us to our present spiritual, moral and material ruin.

Huxley once wittily said of Herbert Spencer that his idea of a tragedy was a beautiful theory slain by a wicked fact. But an infinitely greater tragedy has befallen—and largely by the agency of those two men—since faith in God and true spiritual progress have been all but slain by a wicked theory.

It is earnestly hoped, therefore, that the meeting in the Cridge Memorial Hall on Friday evening called by the Evolution Protest Movement, and to be addressed by Rev. Principal W. Ellis, M.A., who is speaking on "Evolution—the Canker of Modern Life," will receive the support of a large attendance.

G. E. ALTREE COLEY.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

Sir,—Last Spring when the above question came up for decision by our City Council, a petition against instituting a period of daylight saving time was forwarded to the City Hall, signed by a large majority of postal workers in Victoria.

This question is to be settled by a plebiscite presented to Victoria voters on municipal election day, December 12.

We, as a body of workers, are strongly opposed to any alteration of the "time."

With transportation companies and outside municipalities still on a standard time we fail to see how a daylight saving scheme can be worked satisfactorily.

Introduce New Conductor For City's Senior Choir

Arion Club, Under W. C. Fyfe, Heard by Capacity Audience at Empress Hotel—Concert Opens Forty-Fourth Season in City

Venerable in years and mellowed by experience, the Arion Club occupies an enviable place in the affections of Victoria's music-loving citizens, and last night a capacity audience greeted the choir, when it gave the opening concert of its forty-fourth season at the Empress Hotel.

Singing for the first time under its new conductor, W. C. Fyfe, the club on this occasion fully lived up to its splendid tradition. There was majestic body of tone, and never for a moment did its characteristic dignity desert it, even in the singing of the lighter and more humorous numbers. Last night's audience was obviously delighted with the programme, and there was numerous repetitions of especially successful numbers.

INTRODUCES CONDUCTOR

Mr. Fyfe was introduced, amidst applause, by Thomas Kelway, president of the club. One of the best-known church choir leaders in the city, he conducts with authority and taste, and definite intention was apparent in the mode adopted for each piece during the evening.

The programme was built from about the customary proportion of accompanied and unaccompanied numbers, and in mood the compositions varied from the dramatic and narrative to the lyrical or semi-religious. For further variety there were two instrumental trio groups by the Warnclyffe Trio, comprising Mrs. C. C. Warn, pianist; Miss Bebe Warn, violinist, and Miss Noelle Warn, cellist, who were particularly happy in the spirited Brahms "Hungarian Dance No. 5" and the charming old melody, "All Through the Night"; and the vocal solos by Thomas Kelway, dramatic tenor, "Hail! Thou Chaste Dwelling" (from Gounod's "Faust") and Brahms' "Lullaby," the former a very fine dramatic interpretation and the latter with refinement and sweetness.

THE CHOIR

Without the necessity of "warming up," the choir sang its opening number, "The Sword of Ferrara" (Bullard) as well as anything on the programme. The manner of singing, as well as the music, was consistent with the dramatic interest of the narrative.

Among the outstanding numbers was Massenet's "Monks and Pirates." Eight years ago this was sung by the choir, and one could note certain changes, particularly in dramatic values, attained through tonal contrasts and restrained tempo. From the deliberately enunciated lines beginning "God of Mercy," sung very softly, it was possible by this method to work up a magnificent declamatory climax, dramatizing the idea of war and pillage. Similar methods were used in other numbers. Hammond's setting of "Lochinvar," last sung four years ago by the choir, was another example. Splendidly robust and vigorous, the tonal contrasts in this were better, however, than the tempo contrasts. Two good voices were selected for the solo parts, Mr. W. Symons for the baritone and Seymour White for the bass.

Of the remaining numbers, the unaccompanied "Shadow March," by Protheroe, was one of the most beautifully sung. Taken staccato, and with pianissimo of almost whispered dimension, this caught the spirit of mystery, spooks and shadows to perfection, and the articulation was faultless. Schubert's "Serenade," while beautiful in variety of tonal color, was a little heavy in tempo. The unaccompanied "Clover Blossoms Kiss Her Feet," Hugh Robertson's "All in an April Evening," Jacobson's "Keep Ago!," Robinson's "Knowledge," and the charmingly melodious "Lassie of Mine" (Walt) rounded out a typically generous programme. Mrs. C. C. Warn, giving her customary splendid support at the piano.

REFUSE COSTS ARE PROVIDED

Health Committee of City Council Making Inquiry Into Question

Preparatory to bringing in recommendations with respect to the disposal of garbage, the health committee of the City Council is gathering data on the amount of garbage that has to be disposed of each year, Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter stated yesterday.

The city not only takes care of its own refuse, but also that of Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich.

It was learned that during the past ten months the city has disposed of 3,947 cubic yards of refuse for Oak Bay at a cost of twenty-five cents a cubic yard, or a total of $986.75. For Esquimalt the city disposed of 1,832 cubic yards at a total cost of $420.50. From Saanich came 257 cubic yards of garbage, which the city disposed for the sum of $61.75.

These figures have been obtained because of complaints that have been received from Oak Bay and Esquimalt in connection with refuse floating back onto the beaches.

A meeting of the health committee will be held this week to consider the whole question.

WARNS ESTATES TO PAY DUTIES

Hepburn Says Informers May Be Employed to Aid in Succession Collections

TORONTO, Dec. 4 (CP)—Employment of informers to aid the Ontario Government in its collection of succession duties, corporation taxes and other Treasury levies was predicted tonight by Premier Hepburn as he announced that an additional $350,000 in succession duties had been recovered from the estate of the late Harold F. Ritchie.

"I warn these estates," said the Premier, "that we will not tolerate any attempt to escape making proper contributions to the Province. In future 100 per cent pen-

INTERESTED IN MINES OF B.C.

D'Arcy D. Bogue Expresses Faith in Future Development of Province

British Columbia has a great future before it and will contribute much to the national wealth of Canada, in the opinion of D'Arcy D. Bogue, mining man from Montreal, who was at the Empress Hotel last night. He said he considered the province has only been scratched for its minerals, and a number of mines were still in the making.

Mr. Bogue is interested in the Federal gold mines in the Bridge River district. He is a newcomer to the mining industry of British Columbia, although he has been interested in the Bridge River district for the past year.

FORCUPINE DISTRICT For some time Mr. Bogue has been interested in the Porcupine district in Ontario, where he was interested in the Gillies Lake Porcupine mines, and also the Pamour Porcupine mine. He said the latter was considered one of the coming gold mines of Canada.

Speaking of the Federal property, the visitor stated that in No. 1 tunnel the ore had been exposed over drift width, and recent assays from the ore were encouraging.

Diamond drilling operations had been started, and a contract awarded Boyle Brothers, Vancouver. He added engineers considered Federal mines contained one of the largest ore bodies in the north end of the Bridge River district.

Drinks Toast From Historic Glass

A tradition of historic significance was given out at the Art Gallery in Toronto during the recent visit of His Excellency Lord Tweeddale, when the Governor-General drank a toast to the King from one of the famous "Simcoe glasses" of beautiful English crystal. His Excellency is seen here drinking the toast with A. H. Robson, vice-president of the Gallery. The ceremony is one reserved only for visiting Governors-General. Note that the glasses have no stands and must be drained before setting down—bottom up.

Is Among Aldermanic Candidates to File Nomination Papers With City Clerk

W. H. SARGENT

Three more candidates in the civic election filed their nomination papers with the city clerk yesterday, bringing the total now definitely in the field up to fifteen.

Included among the papers filed yesterday was that of William Henry Sargent, whose candidature was not certain. At the time he took out his papers, he was not sure whether he would be in the field.

Nominations filed yesterday follow: Percival Robert Brown, 1408 Stadacona Avenue, estate agent; proposed by Walter S. Chambers, 74 Wellington Street, retired; seconded by John Cochrane, 815 Linden Avenue, druggist.

Frank LeRoy, 503 Montreal Street, publishing agent; proposed by Dr. A. D. Bechtel, 1365 Rockland Avenue, physician; seconded by H. D. McDowell, 258 Edward Street, printer.

William Henry Sargent, 1515 Vining Street, retired; proposed by David Parsell, 1723 Stanley Avenue, retired; seconded by William Marchant, 1731 Fort Street, retired.

City Not Liable For Police Raid

MONTREAL, Dec. 4 (CP)—J. A. Hurteau felt visiting detectives were no asset—and neither did roomers in his house. Hurteau said his rooms were now vacant because of a raid staged by a morality squad, and he wanted the city to pay him $100 for his lost rent. Chief Justice R. A. E. Greenfield, however, ruled in court today that officers serving in such capacity were peace officers and not employees of the city.

Fatally Burned By Steam on Tug

ST. CATHERINES, Ont., Dec. 4 (CP)—The burns which live steam inflicted on Joseph Norwood Garr, thirty, of Port Dalhousie, aboard the tug Dorothy May caused his death in hospital here today. Garr was pulling a rope-fender into the hold when it broke the steam pipe. He is survived by a widow and four small children.

PEACE PLANS GO TO ITALIAN AMBASSADOR

Continued from Page 1 frontier of Eritrea in Tigre Province, extending as far as French Somaliland, but leaving Askum and other holy cities in Ethiopia.

CITATION FOR ITALY Western Tigre Province would remain in Ethiopia, or, if most of the province went to Ethiopia, a portion around Makale would be ceded to Italy.

Ogaden Province would be added to Italian Somaliland on the south, the Italian border extending to 8 degrees north latitude, and on the west between the 38th and 40th degree of longitude.

MAY BE POSTPONED GENEVA, Dec. 4 (CP)—The meeting of the League of Nations' sanctions committee to discuss the proposed oil embargo, scheduled for a week from tomorrow, may be postponed if a basis for a settlement of the East African dispute acceptable to Rome and Addis Ababa should be found meanwhile, some Geneva circles believed tonight.

ROME, Dec. 4 (CP)—Italy's East African campaign will go on, fed by low-grade petroleum from its own abandoned wells and by alcohol from its sugar beets and wines, even if the League of Nations clamps down its threatened oil embargo, observers predicted today.

STUDYING RESOURCES Engineers began detailed study of the petroleum resources of the country. In the region of Piacenza, in Northern Italy, some 30,000 tons of crude oil can be produced annually, it was said, and other oil-bearing areas are known to exist in Piedmont and along the Adriatic Coast, particularly in Iripina and Lucania. Oil wells neglected years ago, because of cheaper oil from abroad, will be reopened and additional new drillings made wherever oil may lie.

The fuel most likely to replace gasoline is considered to be alcohol. Wood alcohol can be made from wood or sawdust and ordinary alcohol from beets or grains.

MASKING SITUATION

ROME, Dec. 4 (CP)—A Royal decree masked Italy's financial situation with official secrecy tonight. Amid an apparent tightening of the kingdom's home defences, the decree suspended publication of treasury figures, statistics on the public debt and statements of the Bank of Italy.

As for the conflict in Ethiopia, official sources said Mussolini was going on with his war without waiting for Great Britain and France to propose peace.

NO SINGLE FOOT

ADDIS ABABA, Dec. 4 (CP)—Emperor Haile Selassie, although Europe is buzzing with reports of possible new peace moves, sent word today that Ethiopia will never surrender "a single foot of land" under any plan.

The Emperor, who is at Dessie, telephoned Foreign Minister Heroy here, "we will never give up any part of Ethiopia."

KILLED WHEN TRAIN LEAVES THE TRACK

SUDBURY, Ont., Dec. 4 (CP)—An unidentified transient was killed and another transient, G. F. W. Lake, of Saskatchewan, was seriously injured today when a Canadian National Railway freight was derailed six miles west of Sudbury. Nine cars left the track. The line was blocked.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 4 (CP)—Carl Sock, fifty, took a short cut across the ice of the Assiniboine River last night. His body was found floating in open water today. He had apparently fallen through rotten ice.

MOURNING TO BE OBSERVED

State Circles Will Go Into Full Mourning for H.R.H. Princess Victoria

Court mourning will be observed throughout the British Empire for six weeks for H.R.H. the Princess Victoria, sister of King George, who died on Monday. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor was advised yesterday by the Secretary of State, Ottawa.

Full mourning in state circles will be observed for three weeks, dating from December 3, and half-mourning for a further three weeks, it was explained.

During the funeral of her late Royal Highness, flags are to be half-masted at all flag stations and on public buildings.

TO LOWER FLAGS

The British Columbia Government, advised by His Honor, took steps yesterday to comply in so far as the order may affect official affairs in this province on the day of the funeral.

At Government House itself, there will be little express change, as it is understood His Honor and Mrs. W. C. Fyfe will be leaving shortly on a brief vacation, previously arranged.

During the Lieutenant-Governor's absence, Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald will act as official administrator in his stead.

Dr. Dafoe Is Listed Among Noted People

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (CP)—Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, who came into world renown along with the Dionne quintuplets of Callander, Ont., "crashed" Great Britain's "Who's Who" of 1936, published today, but the insertion was in keeping with his modesty.

He recorded of himself: "Practice of medicine as a general practitioner since 1907; in charge of the Dionne quintuplets from their birth."

Mr. Matthews, in a short talk, declared he had been a resident of Saanich for many years, and had always taken a particular interest in educational matters. He was a strong supporter of physical education, he said, and at all times would stand for a free and open discussion of school affairs.

yesterday. On the basis of these proposals, Queen's Park anticipates a settlement tomorrow. A fourth proposal, from the Gatheneau companies, which to date have been playing a lone hand, will probably be received before the conference. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
Eczema or Salt Rheum as it is often called is one of the most agonizing of skin diseases. The intense burning, itching, smarting, especially at night, or when the affected part is exposed to heat, or the hands placed in water, are almost unbearable. Use Burdock Blood Bitters internally, and apply it externally. A few bottles are usually sufficient to afford relief from this torturing blood and skin disease.

URGES EARLY REGISTRATION

Gyro Club Hamper Fund Campaign Now Completely Organized—Work Starts

All registrations for Gyro Club Christmas hampers should be made as quickly as possible, officials of the drive said last night. The filing, checking and re-checking of all names submitted was a long process and consequently longer time was necessary, directors said, in explaining their appeal.

Meantime, the first working party of the club under Lou Glazun, swung into action. The first duty of the clubmen was assembling the hamper boxes brought in by last year's recipients. Canadian Boxes, Ltd., of Vancouver, have again offered their support to the Gyro hamper drive by promising the club all the new hamper boxes needed.

The boxes will be of the same pattern as last year, stoutly built of corrugated board with a Christmas holly design and the name of the campaign on them.

ORGANIZATION COMPLETE
The work of organization at the Gyro offices, 915 Yates Street, has been completed and the staff of stenographers and various assistants are busy in their new duties.

The laying out of stores and the first stages of packing will start early next week. The rear end of the building separated from the rest of the structure by a wide doorway will be used as the packing room. The middle space will be utilized as storage space for full and empty hampers. The front offices contain the executive and registration departments.

WORLD OPINION CURBS LEAGUE

Prof. E. S. Farr Tells How Public Sentiment Affects Council of Nations

World public opinion and the Treaty of Versailles have greatly influenced the League of Nations, Professor E. S. Farr told members of the Revellers Club last night at the Cairo Coffee Shop.

Professor Farr pointed out when Japan went into Manchuria the League objected and an investigating commission laid the blame on the invading country, but public opinion was indifferent to the worries of China. When Germany commenced to rearm, the speaker declared, world opinion was that she might do so, as all other nations were spending millions. Even in the beginning of the Italo-Ethiopian trouble, world opinion was friendly toward Italy because of her great needs and held unfair prejudices against Ethiopia, he said. Public opinion, however, changed and the League gained power in the matter.

LEAGUE IS 'SADDLED'
The Treaty of Versailles saddled the League with a great burden due to its vindictiveness and revengefulness, the speaker went on to say. Referring to the Italo-Ethiopian dispute, Professor Farr explained that in 1928 Italy was to be allowed to build a road through Eritrea and into Ethiopia for economic purposes, but when the road reached the border the builders were not allowed to continue. Several other incidents wherein Ethiopia had been rather sharp in her dealings with Italy and had served to irritate Premier Mussolini into war were cited.

NOMINATIONS ARE CLOSED

Only One Acclamation in Vancouver—Two Candidates Are Disqualified

VANCOUVER, Dec. 4 (P).—Alderman Warner Lost was re-elected by acclamation in Ward Eleven today when nominations for the Vancouver civic elections on December 11 closed. His only opponent, J. C. McLean, was disqualified because a certificate of incumbency was not filed along with his nomination.

Professor F. E. Buck, member of the school board who was seeking re-election, was disqualified for the same cause.

With the exception of the aldermanic election in Ward Eleven, contests were assured for all the other five vacancies on the council, the four on the school board and the three on the parks board.

TWO NOT STANDING
Alderman A. C. Cowan, of Ward Three, and Alderman Thomas Wilkinson, of Ward Twelve, whose terms close this year, are not seeking re-election. Alderman A. G. Harvey, who previously had intimated he would not be a candidate, filed papers for re-election in Ward Eight.

L. D. Taylor, seventy-seven-year-old former mayor, who was swept from office last December when G. G. McGeer was returned to the mayoralty by a huge majority, is opposing Alderman L. D. McDonald and Thomas Irvine for the Ward Five aldermanic seat.

FORMER REEVE RUNNING

Alderman J. J. McRae is opposed in Ward Nine by G. A. Walkem, former Reeve of Point Grey.

In two plebiscites to be presented on election day, citizens will be asked if they favor reducing the City Council from twelve to eight members and if they favor election of aldermen at large instead of by wards.

Marriage Is Solemnized At St. Paul's

Rev. Canon Stocken performed the marriage service in St. Paul's "Naval" and Garrison Church last evening at 8 o'clock, for Valentine Florence, daughter of Mr. S. W. Ireland, and the late Mrs. Ireland, of Plymouth, England, and Mr. Thomas Alexander Hetherington, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hetherington, of Calgary.

Masses of chrysanthemums and greenery were used in decoration of the church. A pale pink variety was arranged on the altar, and white chrysanthemums tied with white tulle bows designated the guest pews. Mr. C. E. Boulter played the wedding marches.

PRETTY BRIDE

The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. R. A. Dunn, and looked most attractive in her wedding gown of soft white georgette, very simply fashioned. The bodice was finished with long lace sleeves, and two flared flounces were attached to the floor-length skirt above the hemline, and the waist was encircled with a narrow sash of velvet tied with long ends at the back. Her long flowing veil of embroidered tulle arranged with a stiff frill at the back to a Dutch cap of Honiton lace, formed a train, and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and white carnations.

Miss Helen Roode, a bride of next week, was maid of honor, in a frock of peach crepe, simply made, with frilled caplet sleeves, and tied with a sash of Marina blue, and worn with a matching blue hat. She carried an arm bouquet of mauve chrysanthemums.

The best man was Mr. Clement Mann.

RECEPTION HELD

About fifty guests assembled after the ceremony at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Dunn, 646 Grenville Avenue, Esquimalt, to tender their congratulations to the bride and groom, who received them standing before the flower-banked fireplace in the drawing-room.

Later supper was served by the host and hostess, the latter wearing a smart gown of floss purple velvet, adorned with a Rhinestone buckle, and a corsage of roses, and a matching felt hat. A three-tiered cake was placed at one end of the table, which was centred with a pink crystal bowl filled with pink carnations, set amid tall green tapers in pink crystal candlesticks.

The bride went away in a navy blue tailored suit and a matching hat, and a gray travel tweed overcoat with a deep fur collar.

Among the many useful and handsome gifts were a table lamp, from the bride's former associates in the credit department at David Spencer's, Ltd.; a silver cake dish from the Tillamook company of Girl Guides, of which the bride is captain, and a cut glass salad bowl with silver servers from her fellow members in the choir of Esquimalt United Church.

Social Activities and Notes of Personal Interest

Venture Club Newly-Formed Organization

The Venture Club was organized last night at a meeting held in the Soroptimist Club room with Mrs. Dorothy Spurr, president of the Soroptimist Club, in the chair. The club has been formed in conjunction with the Soroptimist organization. Fourteen members enrolled last night.

The election of officers took place and Miss Helen Wells was named president; Miss Jean Balfour, vice-president; Miss Edna McKenzie, recording secretary; Miss Muriel Butcher, corresponding secretary; Miss Eugenie Cantwell, study committee; Miss Janet Graham, social; Miss Carol Copeland, publicity; Miss Betty Patton and Miss Hazel McKenzie, telephone committee. The initiation of the members will be held following a dinner to be held on December 17 in the Soroptimist room, at which time the members of the Soroptimist Club will be guests.

OBJECTS OF CLUB
The objects of the newly-formed club are to promote the spirit of service and true friendship among the members; to study questions of national and international relationship with regard to government, art, customs, industries, etc.; to develop a broader outlook in relation to community, city, state and nation, and to become acquainted with, and more interested in women of other cities, states and countries; to become "world-minded" of "citizens of the world" in the broadest sense, and venture into the economic field for women through the guidance of the ideals of Soroptimism. The meetings will be held in the Soroptimist Club rooms, 605 Courtney Street.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

GANGES

The monthly meeting of the Ganges Institute took place in the committee room of the Mahon Hall, the president, Mrs. N. W. Wilson, in the chair and eighteen members present. It was unanimously decided to take up the case of a crippled child, resident on the island, and try to obtain admission for her in the Solarium, the matter being left in the hands of the committee to negotiate with the authorities. The much-admired bed comforter carried out in the institute colors, green, gold and white and on which the members have been working for some time, is now completed except for binding in broadcloth. It was arranged not to sell tickets until after Christmas. It was decided to purchase a carding machine at the approximate cost of $8, and the amount necessary for the purchase is being subscribed by the members. The representative to the Agricultural Association stated the organization had planned to start the lining-up of the stage with funds raised from the Hal-low'en dance and hope to have the work completed before the end of the year. An interesting address was given by Mrs. L. Bittancourt on the life of fishermen on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, their precarious way of earning a living, their danger of sudden storms between January and September when the run is on and other events in their lives. Mrs. Bittancourt, who spends seven months out of the year at Kyuquot, showed many beautiful photographs she had taken of scenes in the surrounding district. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the speaker. The tea hostesses were Mrs. W. M. Mount and Mrs. H. Johnson.

Girl Guide Notes

SALTSRING

There was a good attendance at the Mahon Hall to attend the birthday party of the Saltspring Island Company of Girl Guides, who were celebrating their tenth anniversary. The afternoon proved most enjoyable. There was first an exhibition of several competitive games, at which the Nightingales, Patrol Leader Sheila Halley, lost to the Oracles, Patrol Leader Ida Dewhurst. The judges were Mrs. D. K. Crofton, Mrs. A. Rogers and Miss Doreen Crofton. Round a large and realistic fire, the Brownies sang their campfire songs, the vocal solo being delightfully taken by Margaret Scoones. The Guides later rendered several of their campfire rounds and choruses.

The impromptu charade representing Abyssinia caused much amusement. It took place on the stage and was acted by four of the older Girl Guides, Misses Betty Kingsbury, Shirley Wilson, Norah Turner and Winsome Morris. The charade continued during tea, which was arranged by the committee and served by the Guides, the large birthday cake with its ten candles being handed round by Sheila Halley and Mary Scoones. Before leaving, the president, Mrs. D. K. Crofton, presented the prize to the winning patrol, and in a few words on behalf of the Guides, thanked all who attended the party. Cheers were given and the afternoon was concluded with the Guides standing in a circle and singing "Taps."

Revellers Club To Hold Dance And Card Party

With the entire proceeds being devoted to the Christmas Hamper Fund, a card party with dancing to follow will be held by the Revellers' Club tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the Foresters' Hall, Cormorant Street.

Each year through similar functions the club raises money which is used to provide hampers for needy Victoria persons at Christmas time. Ronald Kay, secretary, gave a brief report on the function at last night's meeting of the club.

The Girl-Stop-it-at-once-What are you hitting that little boy for? Juvenile Footballer—Why, we lost our game on Saturday. The Girl—Well, what has he got to do with it? Juvenile—Do wiv it? W'y, e's our maskit!

Favor Reducing By Exercising; Not Starvation

"It is better to reduce by exercising than by starvation," pointed out Miss J. Greenwood, of London, England, at the Empress Hotel, during an interview in which she told of the great interest in physical exercise being taken by women of all ages in Great Britain.

Miss Greenwood teaches dancing in North London to young women of eighteen years, and has a physical exercise class for their mothers, she explained.

The visitor saw the need for similar classes in America, where she thought "enormous meals" were served.

Miss Greenwood sailed yesterday aboard R.M.S. Aorangi for Honolulu, where she will holiday for some time.

ADAPTING CURES TO MODERN NEEDS

Young Chinese Physician Discovers Many Secrets of Ancient Herbal Remedies

NANKING, China, Dec. 4. (G.P.)—Many old Chinese "herb cures" are being adapted successfully to modern medical needs through the scientific research of a young Chinese physician and chemist, Dr. S. K. Liu.

Dr. Liu, recently returned from several years' study in Germany, has been particularly successful in his experiments with herbs known here as peimunin and fangchinin.

Alkaloids derived from the former herb have been found very effective in the treatment of asthma, colds and other diseases of the respiratory tract.

Fangchinin has yielded alkaloids which have greatly benefited patients suffering from rheumatism or arthritis.

Another native herb known as huang-chin yields a derivative which rapidly reduces fever.

REGINA, Dec. 4. (G.P.)—Announcement has been made of the formation of a new political party in Regina with two of its planks aimed against women. The first is: "All women to be disfranchised." The second: "No woman to be paid a salary." The organizers with their names withheld for the present. The announcement was made at a Co-operative Commonwealth Federation meeting where Mrs. Louis Lucas, prominent in provincial C.C.F. circles, was speaking. The movement is not connected with the C.C.F.

SECOND MEETING OF MARINE DEGREE HELD

The Sons of England held the second meeting of the Marine Degree at the S.O.E. Hall, Broad Street, on Tuesday. There was a good attendance and four new members were initiated and enlisted on the log of "The Victoria," making a total of eleven so far this season.

With Captain Baron in command on the bridge, the proceedings went merrily along throughout the cruise, and the new members of the crew obtained as much enjoyment out of it as the old.

During the evening the election of officers took place and it was decided to hold a general meeting of the Marine Degree some time in January to discuss suggestions for the advancement of the degree. The evening was concluded with supper.

Golden Wedding
Mr. and Mrs. J. Stephenson were "at home" to their friends on Monday at their home, 2609 Doncaster Street, on the occasion of their golden wedding. Sixty-five visitors called during the afternoon and evening and many lovely gifts and flowers were received as well as telegrams. A chime clock from their community friends in Alberta was among the gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson were married in Winnipeg on December 2, 1885, and were pioneers of Alberta, where they resided for thirty years before coming West to retire in Victoria. They have lived here for the past fifteen years. Assisting them in their celebration were their children, all of whom were present, and included Mrs. G. E. Johnson and Mr. Elmer Stephenson, both from Alberta; Mrs. Paul Sy, Yakima, Wash.; Mr. Eline Stephenson, of Beverly Hills, Cal.; and Nila, Lily and Clara Stephenson, who are living at home.

Return Home
Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Peter, of Ganges, have returned home after spending several days in Victoria.

TORONTO, Dec. 4. (G.P.)—Mrs. Emma McKeown, who claimed to be in her 100th year, died in hospital here today. She failed to recover from a fall in her home last Thursday. Her mother was said also to have lived to 100.

The Romance Racket

CHAPTER XXII

"You're in luck," Owen said on the telephone, "that is, if you haven't changed your mind since last night. This morning I ran into Len Harding—he's a neurologist—and he asked me if I could recommend a good girl to take care of his office for the summer. His office nurse is taking a long leave of absence and he doesn't need a trained nurse. Think you'd like to see about it?"

"I certainly would," Carol answered quickly. "Of course, you realize I don't know the first thing about the work and I'm not a trained secretary but if he doesn't require experience, I would like to see him."

"Good. He's in my building. It's the Professor Building, just off Madison. I'll give him a ring and tell him you're coming in this afternoon. By the way, since your theatrical experience will have nothing to do with the job, just don't mention it."

"I feel as though we were entirely unreal and I had forgotten it until you mentioned it," she told him.

"Well good luck and let me know what happens it was a jolly evening last night. Thank you again." He rang off.

She wanted to ask him to come again. She didn't for two reasons: While she believed that surely such an innocent friendship could not hurt Kathy (and Kathy had said for her to be good to Owen), she felt for her own sake it would be better to bring such stolen happiness to an abrupt end before she had created memories that would be hard to banish. Instinctively she felt also that the gulf between herself and Owen would be greater should she be lucky enough to obtain the position he had told her of. There were social worlds between doctors and nurses for all that they were so closely allied in their profession.

Carol smiled to think how readily she had accepted herself as a nurse. She wouldn't even be that, she knew. She wouldn't even be a secretary but a substitute sort of maid. Her heart beat a little faster in anticipation. She wouldn't mind working early and late. Here was something that she really anticipated.

The play script on the mantel caught her eye. She looked at it ruefully. Some girls would have been mad with joy at such a chance, she said aloud to it, "but I guess I'm not that way and there's no use crying over something like that. Some other girl will get a good chance that will really mean something to her."

Carol sent the script back to Morris with a note thanking him for letting her have the opportunity to read it and saying that she didn't feel it was the part for her.

"Listen, Bernhard," he said to her on the phone when he received "don't you dare get temperamental with me. What sort of a play do you want?"

Carol found it hard to explain to him that she didn't want any play, that while she appreciated all that he had done for her, she did not feel happy in the theatre and she thought that she ought to leave before she made it uncomfortable and unpleasant for others.

"Let me worry about that," Morris said to her, "and let me take you to dinner tonight."

It was hard to say no to him. He had been so good to her and with the exception of that scene in the garden, she could find no good reason why she shouldn't see him. As for Carita Hillman's threat, Carol paid no attention to it, but remembering that first scene, she declined, pleading a previous engagement.

Whenever she thought of Manfred Morris, she felt hot blushes on her throat where he had kissed her. Morris was the first man who had ever kissed Carol but she was worldly-wise enough to know that that was not the way she wanted to be kissed. She wondered why Gary had never tried to kiss her. She didn't know that her always-present cool detachment was both a barrier and a come-on. Had Carol been the slightest bit different from what she was, Gary Randall would never have been so intrigued with her, would never have wanted to possess her, never have proposed to her.

She thought of him now and wished that he were back from his long trip. She needed Gary to make her forget last night. When she was with him, she always had fun. He was amusing. The remembrance of his words came back to her as she used that word unconsciously. These weeks of loneliness had done much to press Gary's suit for her hand. Carol wondered if Gary had not been right; it would be amusing. Gary always seemed to have such a good time. He certainly didn't propose to her because she had money, he didn't know that she had it. If she married him, she would have plenty for both of them to enjoy themselves.

She thought that Europe might be fun with someone who could appreciate it. She thought of parties and having someone to see every day, someone who would care about her, compliment her, fill up the emptiness of her life. Carol had learned a lot in these last few months. She had heard gossip about Gary but gossip was simply a way of passing time in the circles of smart New York. And she had never had cause to criticize Gary. He had been good to her. She owed all she had of happiness to him. Perhaps, after he was married, he would settle down. But did people settle down today? Carol hadn't the faintest idea what that meant. Anyway it didn't sound very amusing. There, she found herself using the word again. She sighed, looked at the clock, dashed into the shower and forgot all about Gary. She had a serious appointment in less than an hour.

Dr. Harding learned more by looking at the applicant than by listening to her difficult answers. He measured her straightforward eyes, the lack of unnecessary movement when she walked, the low cadence of her voice without affection. He lying cause is sought and many cases cured.

During these investigations it was found that asthma, eczema, and hay fever were all closely related to one another, and the tendency to one or other or to all three of these ailments was found in many families.

Dr. J. G. Hopkins and B. M. Kestlen, New York, in The American Journal of Diseases of Children, state: Among about 400 cases of eczema studied in the allergy (sensitiveness to certain substances) division of the skin clinic during the past six years, seventy-five were found in which food was the sole or part cause.

In forty patients there was a history of this sensitiveness among the patient's relatives.

In trying to find out what foods are responsible for the eczema, skin tests were made, and also suspected foods were left out of the diet.

When the foods are unimportant they are easily left out of the diet but when they are important or necessary foods for the body's health then it is necessary to get the body gradually used to them so that it will not be sensitive to them.

This is done by starting with a very small quantity of the food and gradually increasing the quantity by a very small amount each day.

The fact that these patients suffer also with hives, asthma, hay fever, and one-sided headache shows that eczema is just one part of this sensitive or allergic tendency.

Remember there are other causes of eczema besides this sensitiveness to various foods, but this particular sensitiveness as a cause should not be overlooked.

A powerful propagandist counter-stroke to the application of sanctions has been delivered by the proprietor of a small hotel in Lerici, on the Italian Riviera. He writes to his former English visitors:

"Hospitality in our country and in our hotel is kept, to English people, in the most cordial and sympathetic way."

We invite our clients and friends not to consider any chafes of newspapers and come to enjoy sunshine and beauty.

They will be received by anyone in the village and in the hotel with the usual nice friendly way and everything will be done to make them feeling "home-like," most comfortable and happy.

The sternest sanctionist might hesitate before such charm.

brushed aside her lack of experience.

"You'll do Miss Kennedy, if you'd like the work. The pay is very small and the job is only temporary but you can see how we do things around here and something good may come of it. Miss Sanford will show you the ropes."

Miss Sanford called herself the "visiting secretary." She came in each day for an hour to take dictation from the doctor. Carol liked her immediately. Freckles spotted her turned-up nose and crinkles traced the laughter around her eyes.

"It's easy as can be for you," she told Carol. The doctor's patients are mostly mental and when there's any other sort of physical work to be done, Dr. Harding usually sends them elsewhere. "I'll show you how to keep the files, give you the charge on who's who, how much to charge this one and that, and in no time you'll have the whole thing right at your fingertips."

It looked and was quite simple. Carol stayed for the rest of the afternoon while Miss Sanford worked with her, explaining each case as she came to the patient's name.

"You'll have to do an awful lot of kidding," she told Carol. "Most of Harding's patients are very wealthy and few of them have anything wrong at all. They want to tell their troubles to someone and they'll tell them to you as well as to Dr. Harding. They like to have a big fuss made over them. The only nursing experience you need for this is a little study of child psychology. Put them on the hand, calm them down when they can't see why Dr. Harding can't see them immediately. Sound easy?"

"Sounds interesting. I like to hear about people."

"You'll hear plenty! Now, how about uniforms?"

"What kind will I get?" Carol asked.

"My dear, anything you've been wearing in Dr. Craig's office."

"I haven't been working for Dr. Craig. He . . . he is a friend of mine," Carol said in a small voice.

"Oh, I didn't know. Well, you'll see him lots around here. He's in frequently. Dr. Harding sends his surgical cases to him and Dr. Craig sends them back to have their nerves settled. That'll make it nice for you knowing him."

"Will it?" Carol asked herself.

"A child should be stopped on the spot if it does anything wrong," says Dr. Emanuel Miller, the famous expert on child psychology.

Does he by any chance mean "stopped"?

Stretched out across the judging table, these beautiful specimens of the Silver Fox are waiting the judge's verdict. This picture was taken at the annual exhibition of the Silver Fox Breeders' Association at the Royal Agricultural Hall, London. Silver Fox farms became very active in Canada several years ago, and rapidly spread to England and Scotland, where it is now a valuable industry.

Similarly with eczema: various forms of treatment were tried with more or less success.

Today the cause of asthma is searched for diligently and many cases have been cured since it was found that certain foods, pollen from plants, the fur or feathers of animals, growths or other defects in the nose were causing the asthmatic attacks.

Today also eczema is not simply treated with sulphur, mercury, zinc or other ointment, but the under-

EATS OATMEAL TO KEEP FIT

It may be one of Nature's lowest cost foods, but lucky is the boy or girl who gets it for breakfast every morning.

Many are nervous, poot in appetite, system out of order, because their daily diets lack enough of the precious Vitamin B for keeping fit.

Few things keep them back like a lack of this protective food element.

So give everyone Quaker Oats every morning. Because in addition to its generous supply of Vitamin B for keeping fit, it furnishes food-energy, muscle and body-building ingredients. For about 1/5c per dish.

Start serving it tomorrow for a 2-weeks test. Quaker Oats has a wholesome, nut-like, luscious appeal to the appetite. Flavour, surpassingly good. All grocers supply it.

Even before their first Birthday

What Today Means

"SAGITTARIUS"

If December 5 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until 12 noon, from 3 to 5 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m., from 1 to 3 p.m. and from 5 to 7 p.m. Personal actions, in all probability will set the standards by which the average person will be judged this day. Lack of consideration will be construed as an indication of ill-breeding. Unnecessary loud talking may convey the impression of vulgarity. Flashy wear, apparel or an ostentatious display of jewelry is apt to create an unfavorable opinion. If you are wise you will give careful thought to your individual appearance, so as to avoid untidely comments. Business transactions are likely to prove very profitable, especially those involving perishable goods. Social activities, however, should be avoided. Married and engaged couples, and those who have been stimulated by love, must be careful this day that affection is not swept away on the tides of tempestuous emotions. If a woman and December 5 is your birthday, you ought to be able to help other people solve some of their perplexing problems. If you have good judgment you will make a rule to refuse to become involved in any person's domestic affairs.

You have a decidedly spiritual nature, which, if developed will give you a great deal of consolation, should you ever become worried or discouraged. You will find that faith is the one thing that can sustain you when everything else seems to fail to meet your need. You perhaps will find it very simple to overcome any financial difficulties that may arise. As a receptionist, hostess, lawyer, doctor, trained nurse, newspaper woman or librarian you may find the most congenial kind of work. Marriage possibly will bring you many unexpected blessings. The child born on December 5 usually, when it reaches school age, shows it has quick powers of discernment. The most important lesson for it to learn is not to be too impulsive. If a man and December 5 is your natal day, you may be a little too visionary for your own good. The quicker you realize you are living in a practical age, the better progress you will make. Legal or educational work, journalism and salesmanship may offer you the best opportunities to make money.

A tramp had been admitted to the casual ward of an English workhouse late one evening, and the following morning he duly appeared before the master. "Have you taken a bath this morning?" was the first question he was asked. "No, sir," answered the man in astonishment, "is there one missing?"

APPEAL WOULD BE WELCOMED

Magistrate Jay Advises Testing Out of City By-Law In Higher Court

In the police court yesterday, Magistrate Jay dismissed the charge against William Ferriday, of the Oak Bay Taxi Service, brought under the city by-law regulating the operation of taxi services and including the rates both minimum and maximum that were to be charged. The second charge laid against Enoch Ferriday operating for the same taxi service was sustained and a nominal fine of five dollars imposed.

There is every prospect that the cases will be appealed so as to test out the rights of the city to enforce the regulations complained of. R. D. Harvey, who appeared for the defendants, in paying the fine imposed, said that he did so under protest as he expected fully to take the case to appeal.

This was met by Magistrate Jay with the statement that he felt that to take an appeal and test out the matter would be the proper course.

CHARGES DIFFER

In the charge which was dismissed, the defendant had been engaged at his taxi stand just inside the municipality of Oak Bay for the purpose of driving a passenger to the C.P.R. wharf. He charged less than the minimum city fare. The magistrate felt that the by-law of the city would only apply to Oak Bay and not to those who might operate in another municipality, which did not fall under the city by-laws. In this case, Mr. Ferriday was plying for hire in Oak Bay.

In the second case, where there had been a call by telephone from the C.P.R. wharf in the city to Oak Bay for a taxi, which had carried the passenger to a point in the city, although the driver informed the passenger that he would have to take him into Oak Bay, and did so before dropping him at his destination, and he charged less than the city fare, the magistrate felt there had been a violation of the by-law and imposed a nominal fine.

SOLICITOR'S VIEWS

In the argument before the magistrate, yesterday, H. S. Pringle, the city solicitor, in defence of the by-law, argued that it fell absolutely under the provincial act, which gave statutory powers to the municipality to pass such a by-law. The municipality could control traffic over the streets and fix maximum and minimum rates to be charged for taxi services, and this was what was contained in the by-law. As soon as a taxi came into the city, it fell under the classification of doing business in the city and came under the regulations provided by the city.

The magistrate asked what would happen if each of the municipalities between Oak Bay and Courtenay had regulations similar to that of the city, and a person hired a car to drive him from Oak Bay to Courtenay.

Mr. Pringle said that such a situation had arisen. The Legislature had taken action to overcome it. Under the Highway Act, a public carrier's licence could be taken out which enabled the driver to pass through such municipalities free from the local regulations.

MR. HARVEY OPPOSES

Mr. Harvey argued that the act limited the operation of the regulations to the municipality concerned. Cars that piled for hire in Oak Bay could carry the passenger wherever he wanted to go.

If this were not so, then the operation of the by-law would make the situation intolerable. If the common law rights were interfered with to the extent that this unreasonable proposition would create, then there would be a nullification of the law. It was never the intention, he contended, to give the city the power it was now attempting to enforce. He argued that the Oak Bay taxi service was no more under the regulations of the city than was the Oak Bay bus line when operating in Victoria under the franchise granted it by Oak Bay.

MAY REFUSE TO HANDLE CASES

Medical Association Expected to Make Decision on Matter by December 15

Unless the city takes some action in connection with the Victoria Medical Association's request for a $1,000 per month grant, the association may refuse to handle relief and indigent cases, it was learned yesterday.

A decision to this effect is expected to be reached by the Medical Association when it meets on December 15. The city, in its letter to the association, has asked that it defer its request until February 1. The reasons given for this are that the 1935 budget is already spent, so that nothing could be paid this year, and that by February 1 the 1936 budget will be considered, and a decision could then be made.

ARMY HOSTELRY DOES GOOD WORK

Many Families Taken Care of Through Services Maintained by Local Organization

A wide-spread chain of institutions, owned and operated by the Salvation Army, are to be found stretching across Canada, from Halifax in the East, to Victoria in the West, which are proving themselves havens of hope and mercy.

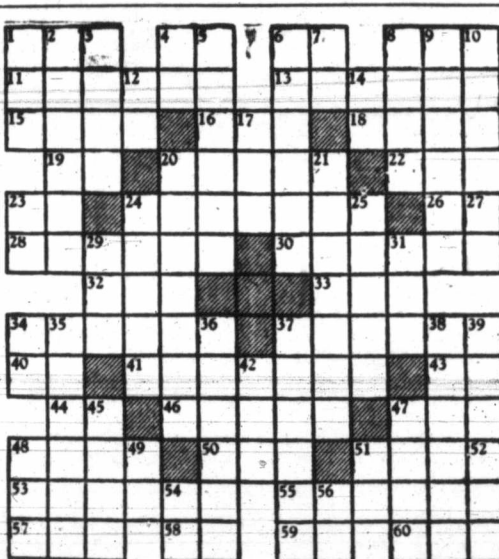

When one considers the work of the Army, with its Grace Hospitals at Vancouver, Calgary, Winnipeg and in Eastern Canada, also the rescue homes, children's homes, men's and women's industrial institutions, or any of the eighty-seven varied phases of the practical work carried on, and the staff officers and welfare workers who are experienced in dealing with the needs of the people, it is realized that a Salvation Army service department is an indispensable unit in all the principal cities in the Dominion.

Locally, the Army, through its stores and hostel, is a good Samaritan to many in these times of difficulty. The record of this institution is one to which the Army may point with satisfaction: During the past year in Victoria, 2,664 free beds were supplied to sick and homeless men, while seventy-six broken and destitute men were started in life afresh. Over 2,000 free meals were provided, 500 families were given food and fuel, and 806 families supplied with free parcels of clothing and furniture, approximately 4,000 garments being given away. The Army officers paid 107 visits to the police court and 415 visits to local institutions.

PLEASED AT WINTER FAIR

Mayor David Leeming Says Indoor Exhibition Is Outstanding Event

Mayor David Leeming, president of the Tourist Trade Development Association, expressed his surprise and delight at the attractiveness of the Winter Fair and Bazaar in the Armories, when he made a tour of inspection yesterday afternoon prior to The Daily Colonist Baby Show.

"Attendance at the fair here this afternoon stresses the need for a proper civic auditorium, where future indoor exhibitions could be held," he added.

MUST SUPPORT BODY

"This fair was planned by the Tourist Trade Development Association for the purpose of keeping the organization alive and ardent. If citizens of Victoria want to benefit from the tourist industry, they must show their appreciation by supporting this non-profit, community organization," he asserted.

"The Tourist Trade Development Association exists for the purpose of lengthening the stay of visitors to Victoria, and must have funds to carry on with. If we want Winter tourists, we must provide outstanding entertainment for their benefit," he said.

"I sincerely trust that every resident of the city will get behind the association and show their interest by visiting this outstanding Winter fair and bazaar," the Mayor concluded.

Hudson's Bay and Spencers Battle to One-All Deadlock

Departmental Elevens Play Through Ninety Minutes of Hard-Fought Soccer to Draw—Clarke and Robinson Net Goals—James Bay Wanderers Defeat Sailors by 3-1

Although nothing at stake, but the glory of victory, Hudson's Bay, who lifted the Hayward Cup last week, and Spencers clashed in one of the hardest-fought matches of the present campaign yesterday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park and when the final whistle sounded they failed to reach a decision, the final score being 1-1. A fair crowd braved a cold afternoon to watch the squads in battle, but most of them forgot about the weather in the second half, when excitement ran high as the teams battled doggedly for a verdict, which failed to come.

With Art Chapman, centre-half, leading most of the attacks, Spencers had a clear margin in the first twenty-five minutes, but their forwards were being constantly crowded by the Bays' backs and halves, and scoring was out of the question. After the cup winners nearly scored early in the game through Stevens, a foul was whistled against Kennedy for tripping Collins. Chapman's hard drive sailed over the bar. However, Spencers' continuous offensive work was finally rewarded when they scored one of the prettiest goals of the season.

SCORES GREAT GOAL

It came about this way: A throw-in was given in the Bays' half of the field. Chapman gained possession and swung a long, high cross to the right wing, where Brown received and passed inside to Bernie Clarke. Without hesitating, Clarke crashed home the opening tally with thirty minutes of the half gone.

The Bays pepped up after this and worried Spencers' back division with numerous attacks, but Munroe and Cann were a hard pair to penetrate. Spencers' halves, a little covering up at the same time and repulsed several dangerous raids. Stevens' header from Stewart's cross was the closest thing to a score during the remainder of the half. However, Stewart acted quickly and cleared to midfield.

Early in the final session, Okell was sent right through, but missed the post. The Bays continued a series of strong attacks and had Spencers hemmed in their own area for many minutes. Twice Okell missed again and then Robinson had hard luck with a fast drive. Spencers, too, went away on numerous forward raids and, like the Bays, had their share of ill-luck.

DEADLOCKS SCORE

Tubby Stevens was injured and left the field for five minutes. Not long after he returned, Stevens sent the pass to Robinson which gave the Bays the equalizer. Robinson's low drive caught the corner as Stewart tried hard to save. The last twenty minutes was crowded with action, both goals being subjected to many close calls, but try as they did, the teams failed to break the deadlock.

McMillan refereed, and teams follow:

Spencers—Stewart, Munroe, Cann, E. Bradley, Chapman, D. Bradley, Brown, Hall, Clarke, Collins and Nicol.

Hudson's Bay—Baxter, O'Connell, Wyatt, McConnell, Kennedy, Oakman, Stewart, Robinson, O'Neil, Stevens and Barnswell.

WANDERERS WIN

Banging home three markers in the final half after trailing a 1-0 score at the rest interval, Manager Bert Robertson's James Bay Wanderers came through with a 3-1 victory over the Navy.

With nothing at stake and two weakened elevens on the field, the match produced little in the way of excitement for the handful of spectators who made their way to the naval recreation ground. Admirals showed to witness it. Navy had the better of the play in the initial stanza and managed to net their lone marker of the match when their opponents were playing with ten men. Wanderers, after tying the score early in the final half, showed plenty of life and finally finished up on the long end of the score.

Bennallack scored the Navy's only marker about halfway through the first half when he headed the ball into the net after Walker, in the left lane, had centred. The sailor forwards rifled a number of shots at Sadler, Wanderers' goalie, but he was safe.

CANN NETS EQUALIZER

Early in the second half the Wanderers equalized when Frank Cann, young leftwinger, beat Mundle, Navy goalie with a low shot to the corner of the goal. From the centre the sailors opened up on the offensive, but Magee and Eastwood, Wanderers' fullbacks, thwarted their every attack.

Taking the upper hand again Wanderers took the lead when Tommy Belford rushed the ball into the net after White had crossed from the right wing. Mundle tried to save, but was rushed into the net by the bustling Wanderers' centre forward. Ten minutes before the final whistle Ed Ball ended the scoring when he beat Mundle with a low drive.

Joe Obee refereed and the teams were:

James Bay Wanderers—Sadler, Magee, Eastwood, White, Belford, S. Thame, Garnet, Ball, P. Thame, T. Belford and Cain.

Navy—Munroe, Dovey, Moore, Hutton, Hibbert, Watt, Brown, Westover, Bennallack, DeCosta and Walker.

CATHERINE FINCH

MARRIED 4 HUSBANDS IN SUCCESSION

NAMED CRANE, HAWKE AND RAVEN

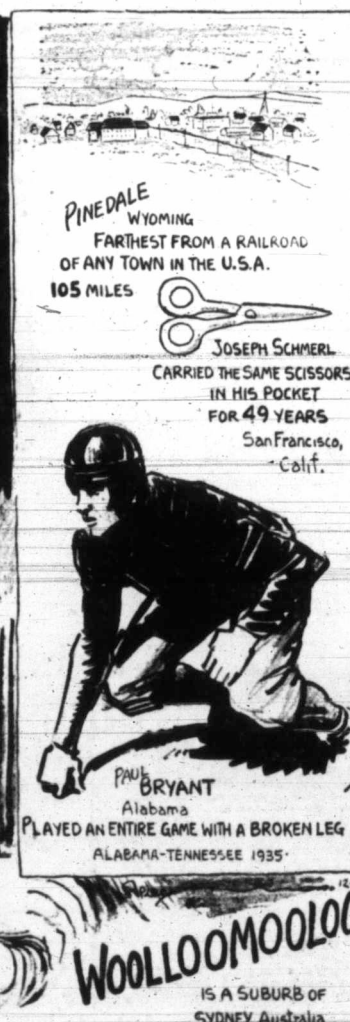

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

Most Remarkable Birth on Record—What is undoubtedly the most remarkable birth ever known is the birth of a child to Mrs. Alton L. Jordan, of Oulu, N.C., at the bottom of a well thirty-two feet deep, containing ten feet of water. Mrs. Jordan, who sends me this Believe It or Not story herself, says:

"On the afternoon of October 22, 1935, I went to our well to draw a bucket of water. I felt fine, but just as I poured the water and reached over to cover the well I fainted. I came to, to find myself swimming around to keep afloat in the bottom of the well. After a while I found a hand-hold on the wall of the well, but could not hold on for long. My shouts and screams were not heard until forty-five minutes later, when my husband, my nephew and farm hands came to my rescue. Just after my husband tied a rope around my body to lift me out I became unconscious, and next thing I remember, I was in the Lee County Hospital at Sanford—the mother of an eight-pound boy that was born while I was still in the water in the well."

After examination of the baby and mother, they were found to be in good health except for minor bruises on the mother's body and the shock suffered from the fall. The fact that the baby was born under water but did not breathe until it had been removed from the water accounts for its being alive today.

Kerr Clearing Americans' Attack

New York teams of the N.H.L. were staging a party limited only to metropolitan pucksters, when this photograph was taken. And apparently everyone was enjoying the spree as New York Americans ganged the goal of Rangers in an effort to score. They failed. Goalie Dave Kerr going to the ice and battling away Eddie Wiseman's thrust. Defencemen Ayres and Johnson, of the Blueshirts, rushed in to hold off Oliver in his attempt to aid the American sniper. Rangers took the verdict, 1-0.

Ralph Mitchell Stars In Saanich Hoop Win

Sharpshooting Forward Nets Thirty-Three Points As Teammates Swamp Lake Hill, 64-30—Trade-Ats Nose Out Aces, 26-25

With Ralph Mitchell, sharpshooting forward, dropping home thirty-three points, West Saanich Mercantile cagers made their first berth in the men's senior "B" hoop chase more secure yesterday evening at the Victoria High School gymnasium by trouncing Lake Hill, their suburban rivals, 64-30, in the final game on the regular Wednesday basketball programme.

Playing in the opening fixture, Doo-Dads, men's "C" hoopers, came through with a 26-25 victory over the Canadian Scottish. The winners held a one-point advantage at the rest interval, with the score standing 11-10 in their favor.

TRADE-ATS WIN

Trade-Ats, intermediate "A" boys' quintette, eked out a 26-25 win over Lynn Patrick's Aces in the second game. The score at the halfway mark was 15-11 in favor of the Trade-Ats, and despite a determined rally on the part of their opponents, they managed to take the keenly-contested tussle.

Taking the floor for the final half with a four-point margin, Trade-Ats kept some distance from their rivals, but about halfway through the game the Aces began to slice into the lead, and for the rest of the fixture there was plenty of excitement.

EASY VICTORY

Displaying superior marksmanship and better ball handling, West Saanich Mercantile had an easy time with the Lake Hill hoopers, and, after taking an early lead, were never in trouble. Ralph Mitchell, shooting as he has never shot before, had a gala evening and scored enough points to defeat Lake Hill single-handed.

When the squads left the floor for the breather, West Saanich Mercantile were on the right end of a 31-19 score. In the final half they tripled the score on their opponents, caging thirty-three points to Lake Hill's eleven.

Alan Le Marquand and Bill Clarke handled the games, and the teams were:

Canadian Scottish—D. Dowell (2), T. Dowell, Thompson (2), Morgan (4), Richards, Day, Knight (1) and Sugden (11). Total, 20.

"Red Slacks," leaders of the men's senior "B" and the intermediate "A" boys' divisions, respectively, of the Victoria and District Basketball League. The Dominos will play twenty minutes against each quintette.

Panorium and Burnetts, women's hoop squads, will meet in the curtain-raiser at 7:30 o'clock, with the flashy Chinlepe, smooth-working Kingston-Gillespie, smooth-working intermediate squads, battling in the second attraction.

LONDON, Dec. 4 (AP)—An All-England team blanked the touring United States squash racquets team, 5-0, in an international match at the Bath Club today.

Former Fighter Is Counted Out

MONTREAL, Dec. 4 (AP)—Georges Rivet, battle-scarred veteran who made a name for himself in the welterweight ranks two decades ago when prize fighting was "semi-legal" in this part of the country, has gone down for the last time.

Georges was game to the last, but the odds were too great and he died yesterday from an illness that had wracked his big frame, so familiar to Montrealers in the vicinity of Bonaventure Station. It was there he directed traffic for years as a member of the Montreal police force.

Until his illness he was always at his corner, just as he was in the days when he faced such opponents as Ted "Kid" Lewis and Jake Acherns at the height of their careers.

HOKEY SIDELIGHTS

(Copyright by Central Press Canadian)

Give him a hockey stick and he's happy; give him a golf stick and he's probably happier still. Fast, sturdy little Normie Himes, whose long and honored career with New York Americans was ended this year by his release, has a fine record, but when the Spring time rolls around and pucks and skates are packed away for the season, Normie hies himself away to his home town of Galt, Ont., and takes to pounding little white pellets over grassy mounds. He is a links pro around Galt and a mighty good one. There probably aren't any better golfers in pro, hockey.

Himes is one of America's originals and until this term, when he caught on with New Haven Eagles after giving way to the call for youth at the American camp, never played with any other pro outfit. A clever and speedy forward, he is still rated one of the greatest play-making centres of all time and for many seasons he was America's most prolific goal-getter. With the star-spangled crew he introduced the cap-wearing fad, and though Himes took plenty of razzing from the fans for this habit, they're going to miss him around the circuit. His clean and spectacular playing was a recognized hockey institution.

BLEASDALE'S REIGN AS TITLEHOLDER IS ENDED BY SIMMONS

Victoria Badminton Club Member Defeated by Willows Player in Straight-Set Match, 15-11, 15-8—Semis Reached in All Open Events—Juniors Start Play This Evening

Des Bleasdale's reign as city badminton champion came to an end yesterday evening at the Willows Club courts when he fell before the finer stroking of Ted Simmons, blond-thatched home club player, in the quarter-finals of the men's singles of the present championship, now advanced to the semi-finals in all of the open events.

Simmons, playing careful and steady badminton all of the way, eliminated the Victoria Club star and former titleholder, in straight sets, 15-11, 15-8. This evening Simmons will battle Ross "Bud" Hocking, who last week retained his Victoria Garrison Club title, in one of the semi-final matches.

Miss Jean Thomson, sixteen-year-old netter from the Brentwood Club, continued to display good tournament form and came through with a well-deserved victory over Miss P. Sluggitt, another young suburban player. After dropping the initial set, 5-11, Miss Thomson, regaining her stride, took the next two sets and the match to spring one of the few upsets of the meet. The scores were 5-11, 11-6, 11-5.

UPSET IN DOUBLES

Frank Tyrrell and George Lane, Victoria Club netters, upset the dope in the men's open doubles by defeating Des and Harry Bleasdale, club champions, after a three-set struggle. The scores were 15-9, 12-15, 15-7. In another extra-set men's doubles fixture, Don Davis and R. Bagley eliminated R. A. and I. Phillips, with scores of 7-15, 15-9, 15-12.

Miss Noni Woodward and Miss Muriel Sluggitt, Brentwood pair and present city champions, were extended in their quarter-final fixture with Miss J. Thomson and Miss P. Sluggitt, another Brentwood pair, before finally coming through to victory. The match was one of the most closely contested of the evening and only one point decided the winners in the first two sets. The greater tournament experience of the champions told in the final set and they stroked their way to a fairly easy victory. The scores were 18-17, 17-18, 15-8.

After dropping the first set, Miss E. Saunders and George Lane rallied in the two remaining sets and worked their way to victory over Miss P. Sluggitt and Ronnie Knott in an open mixed doubles match. The losers took the first set 15-7, but dropped the other two fixtures 11-15 and 9-15.

GOOD GALLERY PRESENT

There was another good gallery on hand yesterday evening to witness the matches, many of which were keenly contested. Play will continue with the semi-finals carded in all of the open events. The first matches are scheduled for 7 o'clock. Play in the junior city championships will open this evening and the finals will be played tomorrow. Tournament officials announced last night that the veterans doubles has been postponed until the annual club tournament.

ENGLISH SOCCER ELEVEN BLANKS GERMANY, 3-0

Large Crowd Sees England Set Back Visiting Players

Sixty Thousand Attracted to White Hart Lane Enclosure to Watch First Game Between Two Countries in Thirty-Four Years' Time—Friendly Spirit Prevails—Camsell Nets Pair

LONDON, Dec. 4. (P.)—England and Germany opposed each other on an English football field today after a lapse of thirty-four years. Despite numerous protests against the staging of the game and warnings of anti-Nazi demonstrations, the contest was fought in a spirit of friendly rivalry, England emerging victorious, 3-0.

Police were stationed about White Hart Lane enclosure, packed with 60,000 cheering fans, and throughout the surrounding district, but there was no sign of a disturbance. Bareheaded and at the salute, Germans and Englishmen stood side by side when the national anthems of the two countries were sung before the start of the game, and when it was over there was much back-slapping and handshaking among the players. A large contingent crossed the Channel with the German team and Nazi flags were numerous in the crowd at the huge stadium.

While the score fairly represented the English team's margin over their opponents, the Nazis played a strong game and were unlucky not to score.

HARD-FOUGHT GAME
The game itself was hard-fought, with the Germans particularly strong in defence and it was not until the closing minutes that the visitors' back division crumbled, allowing England to score two goals in rapid succession. Otto Ohlendorf, of Sweden, refereed and at the close the opposing teams shook hands.

G. Camsell, Middlesbrough's crack centre forward, scored a goal in each half, the third going to the credit of C. S. Bastin, Arsenal winger. Lehner, German inside forward, netted in the second half, but he was offside and the point ruled out.

England's raids were broken up by a strong defence. The Nazi team made a spirited rush to the other end, but failed to score. The home halves crowded the opposing forwards, giving them little opportunity to break away. On the other hand, the Nazi backs tackled in great style.

The English players were not to be denied and two minutes from the interval Camsell beat Jacobs with a fast shot.

SECOND HALF
Germany attacked strongly after England had made two abortive raids and Lehner netted from an offside position to the accompaniment of groans from the Nazi supporters. Matthews substituted for Birkett, of Middlesbrough, at the last moment.

The German defence finally gave way and Camsell headed England's second goal. Bastin rifled in a third a few minutes later.

The teams:
England—Hibbs (Birmingham), Male and Hapgood (Arsenal), Grayson (Arsenal), Barker and Bray (Manchester City), Matthews (Stoke City), Carter (Sunderland), Camsell (Middlesbrough), Westwood (Bolton Wanderers) and Bastin (Arsenal).
Germany—Jacob, Haringer, Meuzenberg, James, Goldbrunner, Gramlich, Lehner, Szepan, Hohmann, Rassenberg and Fath.

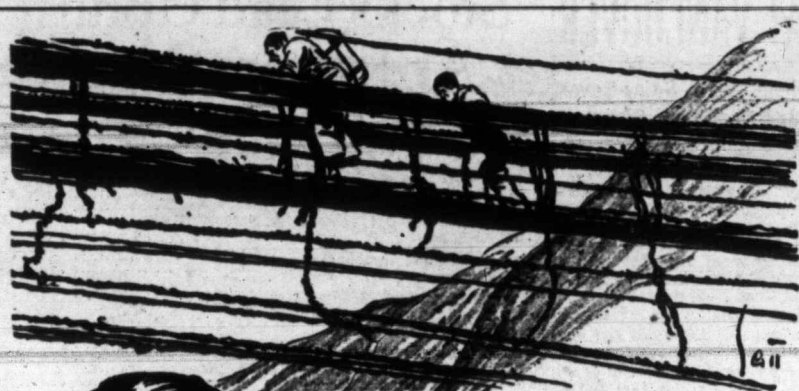

Winnipeg's Boss To Be Ready for Saturday's Game

DETROIT, Dec. 4. (P.)—Dr. W. E. Keane today declared that X-ray plates of Bob Fritz' right hand definitely disclosed there was no fracture. The Detroit physician added he believed that with proper treatment the playing manager of the Winnipeg should be able to play in Saturday's game against Hamilton Tigers for the Canadian football title.

The sting of the hornet is most violent. More poison is injected into the wound than in the case of the other insects.

STONE SIGNED FOR TOP HALF OF MAT CARD

Olympian Grappler to Meet "Rocky" Brooks Saturday at Tillicum Gymnasium

Glen Stone, Olympia matman, who defeated Mike Strelch, Yugoslavian wrestler, in his initial appearance here two weeks ago, is coming back to the Tillicum gymnasium Saturday evening. Promoter Fred Richardson, local impresario, yesterday was successful in booking the Olympia for the top half of the double main event on his squirm card at the Tillicum gymnasium.

"Rocky" Brooks, former local heavyweight, will go in against Stone in the six ten-minute-round match that promises to be interesting. The pair have been given the top half of the double bill. The other half of the twin card will be arranged today and will feature another pair of heavyweights. Two local wrestlers will appear in the special event to round out the bone-bending programme.

BEAT STRELCH

Stone made a good impression with the fans in his local debut against Mike Strelch. His return bout with Brooks is being arranged at the request of the fans who asked to see Stone in action again. Brooks should provide plenty of stiff opposition for the Olympia and will be favored in some circles to get the best of the match.

Tipping the scales at approximately 200 pounds, Stone is a rugged grappler who does most of his work on the mat. He has a good knowledge of the many holds of the mat game, but seems to specialize on a short arm scissors. It was with this hold that he severely punished Mike Strelch here two weeks ago.

Brooks, veteran heavy, met defeat last week at the hands of Kruse and will be out to chalk up a win in his former home town.

JOCK McAVOY IN LIMELIGHT

English Fighter Will Have Chance to Capture Two Boxing Crowns

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (P.)—Boom times are ahead for Jock McAvoy, hailed by some as the best British boxer to cross the Atlantic since the days of Ted ("Kid") Lewis.

If the London laddie is half as good as he looked in his debut here last week against French-Canadian Al McCoy, he may be wearing both the United States middle and light-heavyweight crowns when he returns to Morris England.

Madison Square Garden plans to give McAvoy title shots against both John Henry Lewis and Babe Rizzo, the light-heavy and middleweight standard bearers.

He is booked to meet Risko in an overnight scrap December 20. If he continues to show the class he did against McCoy, one of the best of the North American contenders, he'll get another chance at the Syracuse boy, with the title at stake.

A championship bout with Lewis is a virtual certainty for January. The negro is pledged to make his first title defence for the Garden and, with his manager, Al Greenlee, will come to New York next week to discuss terms.

Former Wolverines Invited to Olympics

HALIFAX, Dec. 4. (P.)—Three members of the former Halifax Wolverines, 1925 Allan Cup winners, were invited today by President E. A. Gilroy, of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, to accompany Port Arthur Bear Cats as Canadian hockey representatives to the Olympic games in Germany this winter. Whether or not Captain Ernie Mosher, Chumme Lawlor and Vince Ferguson would accept the hockey chief's invitation, which asked them to report at Port Arthur not later than December 19, was a matter of conjecture tonight.

Security Prices Move Higher at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP).—Rail shares scored new 1935 highs for the second successive session in a last-hour burst of speed on the Stock Exchange today.

There were net gains of 1 to 4 points. Measured by the Associated Press average of fifteen rails, this group rose 1.4 to 31.2, a new peak since July 18, 1934. The advance was the widest since November 23, when a rise of 1.6 was registered.

Demand for carriers, which was attributed to estimates of improvement in November net operating income, helped stiffen the rest of the market, which had run into profit-taking earlier.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was up 0.5 to 55.6. It was the accumulation of rail issues, brokers said, which strengthened volume to 3,002,741 shares, compared with 1,941,920 on Tuesday. It was the largest turnover since November 25.

Chrysler ran into selling and backed down 1.8 to 33.7, but values of fractions to move than 10 points were made by U.S. Steel at 48.1. General Motors at 35.3, Westinghouse Electric at 34.2 and U.S. Smelting at 106.7.8.

Strong demand for low-priced railroad bonds resulted in many issues reaching new high levels for a year or longer.

Industrial and utility sections were mixed. Gains of 2 1/2 to 5 1/2 were recorded among Italian issues. A rise of nearly 2 points in German (Dawes) 7s was also a feature.

Futures Weaken at Winnipeg as Traders Display Nervousness Over Outlook

Winnipeg, Dec. 4 (AP).—In only a small section of the grain trade was the announced free seller policy of the new Canadian wheat board constructed as a bearish factor today, but the few operators involved were sufficient to depress futures prices.

Wheat values closed a quiet session 1 to 1 1/2 cents lower, December at 84 1/4, May 87 1/4, and July 88 1/4, as one or two Winnipeg Grain Exchange traders displayed nervousness over the change in personnel of the board.

Scattered selling emanating from these sources found the market lacking support, and with weakness at Chicago accelerating the downward trend, local futures were weak throughout the day. Some selling here from outside interests also was apparent.

Cash and coarse grains were quietly steady.

Little Stories for Bedtime
Redwing the Blackbird Gives Warning
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Creeping toward sleeping Danny Meadow Mouse, Reddy Fox managed to keep quite out of sight of anyone in the Smiling Pool. But there was one person to whom Reddy gave no heed. In fact, Reddy did not see him at all. It was Redwing the Blackbird, sitting on top of an alder tree on the bank of the Smiling Pool. Redwing had not seen Reddy until the latter had almost reached the Smiling Pool. Then, happening to look in that direction, he had caught a glimpse of something red moving in the tall grass.

You see, he was looking down and therefore could see what those on the ground or in the water could not see.

Now Redwing does not fear Reddy Fox. There is no reason why he should. But Redwing has no love for Reddy Fox. He knows that Reddy would gladly catch him if he could. So the instant he was sure that it was Reddy creeping through the tall grass, Redwing flew out directly above Reddy and began to scream. "Danger! Danger!" he screamed. "Here is Reddy Fox! Danger! Danger!"

At the first warning note from Redwing, Grandfather Frog dove into the Smiling Pool with a great splash. There wasn't any real need for him to do so because out on that big, green lily pad of his, he was quite safe from Reddy. But Grandfather Frog—Frog always feels more comfortable in the water when any kind of danger is around. All along the shore of the Smiling Pool half-grown young frogs dived into the water in a panic. They knew what had brought Reddy over to the Smiling Pool.

Of course at the first note of Redwing's voice the eyes of Danny Meadow Mouse flew open. The instant he saw where Redwing was hovering in the air as he screamed he knew that Reddy Fox was just beneath him and that meant that Reddy was right back at Danny himself. What should he do? Where should he run? To turn back would be to run right into Reddy's mouth. There wasn't a hiding place near. It was useless for him to try to outrun Reddy, for Reddy could catch him in two jumps.

Was ever a meadow mouse in a more dreadful position? There was Reddy Fox behind him and the Smiling Pool in front of him. To Grandfather Frog, whose big goggle eyes showed just above the surface of the water, it looked as if Danny Meadow Mouse would soon be no more. He couldn't see one little chance for Danny to escape.

Next story: What Danny Meadow Mouse Did.

BRITANNIA BRANCH MEETING IS HELD
Eleven cases were dealt with by the pensions committee of Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, during November. It was reported at a general meeting Tuesday evening. Several War Veterans' Allowance Act cases were successfully attended to.

The employment committee reported assistance to a number of men in gaining promotion, securing employment for a war orphan, and for the son of another member.

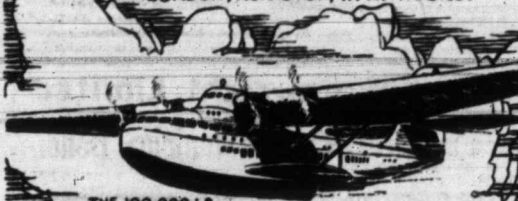

Hearty thanks were tendered to several members who gave donations to the branch in return for past assistance. Nine new members were admitted to membership in the organization. Plans were discussed for the annual banquet to be held in January.

THE ATLANTIC NEXT...

ENGINEERS ARE NOW PLANNING A 100,000 LB. FLYING BOAT, TWICE AS BIG AS THE CHINA CLIPPER WHICH IS NOW REGULARLY CROSSING THE PACIFIC, CARRYING A USEFUL LOAD OF 25 TONS. IT WOULD FLY FROM NEW YORK TO LONDON, NON-STOP, IN 27 HOURS.

THE 100,000 LB. FLYING BOAT OF THE FUTURE

THE PRESENT "CHINA CLIPPER"

TODAY, STUDIES ARE BEING MADE OF TWO ROUTES, EITHER OF WHICH COULD BE SUCCESSFULLY FLOWN TODAY BY THE CHINA CLIPPER SHOWN ABOVE.

NOW that the Pacific is in the bag, attention is focused on the aerial conquest of the Atlantic. Technically, airline operators are prepared to do the job. Imperial Airways, Great Britain's government-owned airline, and Pan American, America's subsidized sole operator of foreign airlines, have made a joint study of the problem. The Atlantic would be spanned partly by each, the two nations involved sharing the expense by means of mail contracts on the part of the United States of America, and out-right subsidies on the part of Britain. Two routes have been carefully studied, with a leaning toward the southern route via the Azores and Bermuda. Glenn Martin, who built the ships which are now regularly spanning the Pacific, says that he is ready to build ocean flying boats which will dwarf the Pacific clippers and span the Atlantic, from New York to London, non-stop in twenty-seven hours. Regardless of what route is chosen or whether the crossing is made piecemeal or in one fell swoop, it seems assured that within two years the Atlantic will be spanned regularly, thus closing the last link of a direct route around the world by air.

CANDID
The box receives all black; but poured from thence, The stones came candid forth, the hue of innocence.

Thus Dryden, who knew his words.
How cold are definitions, how warm illustrations!

A poem, like a picture, is better than a thousand words.
How dead it seems to say that we have candid from the Latin "candere," to be of a glowing white, of which its modern meaning is an extension; how the word must live and burn forever in the light of its classic use by James Jeffery Roche, in his "My Comrade."

"The love of man and woman is as fire To warm, to light, but surely to consume And self-consuming die. But comrade-love is a welding blast Of "candid" flame and ardent temperature; Glowing more fervent, it doth bind more fast; And melting both but makes the union sure. The dross alone is burnt-till at the last The steel, if cold, is one and strong and pure."

A piece of hardened tool steel in the shape of a horseshoe can be magnetized to lift approximately ten pounds per square inch.
